Manitoulin in 1867

As Canada turns 150, a look back at the Island in the year of Confederation

Part I of a series
celebrating Canada 150 on Manitoulin Island

by Shelley J. Pearen

Manitoulin Island was in transition in 1867. Journalists writing in the mid-1860s described it as being forcibly transformed from an isolated island reserved exclusively for its Indian residents, into a reputedly vast resource for farmers, lumbermen, fishermen and speculators.

Manitoulin Island (Mnidoow Minising or Odawa Minising, the "Island of Manitou" or the "Island of the Odawa") has been the home of Anishinaabeg, the First or Original People for thousands of years.

In 1836, the Anishinaabe proprietors of Manitoulin signed an agreement with the government in which both parties agreed to withdraw their claims to the islands, making "them the Property (under your Great Father's Control) of all Indians who he shall allow to reside on them." The ogimaag (chiefs) who signed the agreement in 1836 believed the government was acknowledging and affirming their title to Manitoulin and the adjacent islands; they were agreeing to share it, forever.

Twenty-five years later, in 1861, Manitoulin Island's Anishinaabeg met new government representatives who claimed that the Anishinaabeg had not populated Manitoulin sufficiently, so a new agreement should take place. An offer to allow 25 acres for each Anishinaabe family, plus non-Native settlement on the balance of Manitoulin, was flatly rejected.

The following year, in October 1862, senior government officials brought a revised offer to Manitoulin. Some of the Anishinaabeg succumbed to persuasion and signed a new agreement or treaty in which most of the island was surrendered. They subsequently claimed that they had been threatened and frightened into surrendering the land, and requested cancellation of the treaty.

The people of Wikwemikong refused to sign the government's offer and their peninsula remains unceded or unsundered to this day.

Surveyors started exploring the Island within weeks of the signing of the treaty. As the surveyors worked Manitoulin's Anishinaabe residents carried out a campaign to have the treaty annulled. They petitioned the governor repeatedly, and successfully attracted the attention of journalists and members of Parliament.

Concurrently, the local superintendent of Indian Affairs attempted to resettle Manitoulin's Anishinaabe residents according to the terms of the treaty. The treaty reserved potential harbours, mill sites and town plots for non-Native settlement, coincidentally the current locations of most Anishinaabeg.

In June 1866, land was released for sale in the newly created Howland, Sheguiandah, Bidwell, and Billings Townships, although many Anishinaabeg were still residing on these lots. They were persuaded or coerced over the following four years to relocate to Sheguiandah, Sucker Creek, or Sucker Lake.

Settlement lands were sold at 50 cents an acre with a requirement for immediate and 3-year continuous residency. Except for a brief initial rush, sales were slow and the price was reduced to 20 cents an acre in 1867. The price reduction created a few bargains, but also meant there would be no financial benefit for the treaty Anishinaabeg who were also forbidden to purchase lots.

Clearly the descriptions of Manitoulin as being in transition in 1867 were accurate.

New Year's Traditions

The New Year has been documented on Manitoulin since December 31 1844 when Jesuit priest Father J.P. Choné described his first New Year's Eve at Wikwemikong. Choné recorded:

"First, the chiefs come in a body towards evening. At nightfall the principal people below the chiefs conducted by two miccinawe, gather together in front of the house of their Father the Black Robe. They start with a serenade of horns and a type of drum, thus forming an orchestra. After the serenade the 1st miccinawe starts

Norisle Steamship Society lawsuit seeks $10 million from Assiginack Township

Citing breach of trust, claiming ownership as Tobermory makes plans for dive site

by Robin Burrige

ASSIGINACK—The S.S. Norisle Steamship Society has begun legal proceedings against the Township of Assiginack since learning of the municipality's plans to sell the historical ship to the Tobermory Maritime Association (TMA) to be sunk and used as a dive site.

According to the Statement of Claim filed with the Ontario Superior Court of Justice against the Township of Assiginack on Tuesday, December 13, the Steamship Society is claiming $10 million for damages in addition to an order declaring that the S.S. Norisle Steamship Society is the owner of the S.S. Norisle by way of constructive trust.

The Society is also claiming $250,000 for "aggravated, punitive and/or exemplary damages," an interim order restraining the town from disposing of the Norisle until the matter has been tried, an interim order "compelling the defendant to continue to provide status quo administrative tasks including providing all risk insurance, to maintain its current accessible dockages, road access and snow removal, utilities service and ongoing maintenance at its expense until this matter is tried, full indemnity costs of this proceeding plus all applicable taxes" and "such further and other relief as to this honourable court may seem just."

The claim goes on to accuse Assiginack of breaching a joint venture agreement between the

Manitoulin 150 logo to soon be decided

MANITOULIN—What a great response to the Manitoulin Expositor's "Canada 150" logo contest!

By midnight on New Year's Eve (the deadline), 27 entries had come to the office by hand, by email and via Canada Post.

The difficult part is now to determine a winning entry (and second and third place winners as well) from all of the excellent entries submitted.

The Manitoulin Island Canada 150 logo that will be chosen soon will become public domain for use in identifying any and all Canada 150 events on Manitoulin during the next 12 months.

The Expositor Office thanks all the artists and creative people who took the time to answer this challenge.

Tree of Lights 2017 Manor fundraiser raises $15,255

Manor Calling on You campaign surpasses $100,000 goal

by Robin Burridge

MANITOULIN—The Manitoulin Centennial Manor Calling on You Campaign for a new call bell system for the long-term care home has surpassed its $100,000 goal, raising $104,486.02. The campaign exceeded its goal thanks to the $15,255 raised from this year's Tree of Lights (TOL).

"In the last two years the TOL campaign has raised a total of $23,321 (with all the funds being donated to the TOL)," said Manor board member and TOL organizer Wendy Gauthier. "It is pretty amazing. The response for this year's TOL was great and came from all over the Island, which was nice to see."

The TOL was started last year as a way to raise funds for the Manor. Islanders purchase individual lights on a special tree, which is erected in front of the Manor. Lights can be purchased for $10 in memory of a loved one, in celebration of a person or organization, as a gift or simply in support of the home.

With the Calling on You Campaign surpassing its goal, Ms.

Canadian Coast Guard prepares for Great Lakes icebreaking operations

MANITOULIN—The Canadian Coast Guard, in partnership with the United States Coast Guard and the Ontario Provincial Police remind all recreational ice users to plan their activities carefully, use caution on the ice and stay away from shipping routes and icebreaking operations throughout the Great Lakes.

In Ontario, Coast Guard icebreaking operations to assist commercial shipping are scheduled for Midland as early as December 31, 2016 and Whitefish River on northern Lake Huron January 5, 2017. The Canadian Coast Guard Ship Samuel Risley will be transiting to its home port of Parry Sound on or about January 1, 2017.

These are the first of many ship transits throughout the winter months. Dates and routes are subject to change with little or no notice, due to weather, ice conditions, shipping schedules or other unexpected situations.

Broken and fragmented icy tracks left behind by icebreaking operations and other ship traffic may not freeze over immediately. In addition,

Trillium grant boosts LAMBAC local food programs

by Alicia McCutcheon

LITTLE CURRENT—Local food got a boost thanks to a $51,700 grant from the Ontario Trillium Foundation. Over the course of 11 months, funds from the grant flowed through the Growing Local project to support new and transitional farms and businesses with capital, training and mentoring.

The event held to acknowledge Trillium and the 11 months of activities was held at Hayden's Custom Cutting in Little Current, one of the business that benefitted from the LAMBAC-led pilot project.

LAMBAC general manager Mike Addison thanked Hayden's Custom Cutting proprietor Ken Hayden for hosting the group, introducing Algoma-Manitoulin MPP Michael Mantha.

Mr. Mantha gave a "hats off" to the Ontario Trillium Foundation for their work.

"They really identify with local businesses, local needs, and provide a service that is much needed in the area," he said. "(The funding) offers a hand up, not out, to people like Ken."

"Trillium really has community-oriented projects at heart, and it's happening all over Algoma-Manitoulin," the MPP continued. "You'll have your presence now and security for a long time to come," Mr. Mantha added, speaking directly to Mr. Hayden.

Mr. Addison explained that the Growing Local pilot project supplied training, mentorship and very low interest rate loans to people like Mr. Hayden (a butcher), and also to honey producers, market gardeners and other business with an interest in local food. The project was run between LAMBAC, the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture, Food and Rural Affairs and the Local Food and Farming Cooperative (formerly Eat Local Sudbury).

It was noted that the Growing Local pilot project was wrapping up locally, but would be expanding to other areas of the North.

Manitoulin Trillium Grant Review Team member Michael Erskine explained Trillium's commitment to working with organizations like LAMBAC through its Seed granting program (which funded the Growing Local project), which enables Trillium to try new programs and test new approaches.

"The idea for Growing Local was to support local people and businesses in the agri-food sector through workshops, mentorships and providing access to capital," Mr. Erskine continued.

"Over the past year, funds from your grant were used to help with staffing and administrative costs, supplies and the costs of hosting 10 workshops as well as rental space expenses."

"It's been a pleasure working with Ken," said Maureen Strickland, LAMBAC's loans and business development officer. "It's nice to see you're open for business," she added, commenting on the "nice looking beef" Mr. Hayden was busy cutting up before the event commenced.

Ms. Strickland explained that the Growing Local project impacted 52 individuals, saw 98 people attending 10 workshops on such topics as marketing, sales, basic business planning, nutritional labelling and canning for value-added products. It also saw seven businesses/proprietors mentored, three loans administered and a direct impact of seven start-ups and seven expansions. First Nations participants were also engaged in the process, she added.

Mr. Hayden, it was noted, has been mentored by LAMBAC since February.

"It's a fantastic project and I was pleasantly surprised at the good reception at the workshops," said Peggy Baillie of the Local Food and Farming Cooperative.

"Everyone brings skillsets that vary," added OMAFRA ag rep Brian Bell, adding that the networking was of great benefit to the workshop participants.

Ms. Strickland thanked the Ontario Trillium Foundation for the Seed grant, which they can continue to leverage in the North.

Mr. Addison spoke of Little Current's involvement with the Growing Local program, as the workshops were held out of the Cambrian College satellite office.

"To me, our relationships has always been a very positive one," said Northeast Town Mayor Al MacNevin. "I'm always glad to see these programs are available. Congratulations, Ken."

Hayden's Custom Cutting offers freezer orders and custom cutting with 90 percent local meat. Call him at 705-368-2663 to place your order today.

Let's make 2017 a year of random acts of kindness

"Just a spoonful of sugar helps the medicine go down. In a most delightful way." You don't have to be a Mary Poppins or a Pollyanna to recognize what a little kindness can do to sweeten up just about anybody's day.

Being kind and doing kind things for other people not only tends to create a flutter of warm fuzziness deep inside of the person doing the kindness (as well as the person on the receiving end of the kind act) but kindness has been identified as an integral part of the human condition.

When we commit an act of kindness, we inevitably feel better. Now from one perspective that good feeling is a spiritual element of our humanity, but for the biochemists it can be traced to a chemical chain reaction that increases levels of dopamine in our brains—a natural high that has the added bonus of being really hard for any government to tax as it is basically sin-free.

Kindness has been identified as a key element in the development of social behaviour and bonding that helped strengthen early bands of humans and enabled our ancestors to survive in hostile environments where a lot of the critters we shared the landscape with tended to see us puny hominids as a delectable, if somewhat boney, snack.

Not only are there group benefits to kindness, ensuring the well-being and continued existence of humanity in general, but there are benefits to be felt at just about every level of social and individual weal.

Kindness has been shown to reduce the level of emotional distance between individuals. Not too surprising—we tend to like the people who are kind to us. This is hard-wired into who we are as a species. Seriously, there are literally kindness genes in the human genome and there are ample rewards to being kind than simply a warm fuzzy feeling. Not only do acts of kindness build stronger relationships (think bringing your partner a nice cup of tea or cocoa on a blustery day) there are documented health benefits to acts of kindness.

Kindness actually slows down the aging process, reducing both free radicals and inflammation in the body, which not only slows aging, but promotes heart health as well.

As has become their custom, the students of Manitoulin Secondary School are forging a path to a better world. December was Kindness Challenge Month and throughout the school calendars were posted so students could see a daily kindness challenge. These challenges ranged from putting a coin onto the vending machines, hugging someone you care about, complimenting a stranger, making a stranger laugh, making a card for an elder, leaving a happy note for someone to find, helping a friend, thanking your teacher, smiling at someone you don't know well, to smiling at everyone you see. There was even a Take a Kindness Board put up in the cafeteria organized by the Transitions class and Ms. McCann. Students wrote something supportive on a sticky note then stuck it to the board so other students could then take a sticky note to help them lift their spirits.

Kindness transcends cultural boundaries and in these ever-so-scary days of global strife, a little act of kindness can go a long way. Acts of kindness, big and small, can literally change the world.

Islanders' efforts to assist those fleeing global conflicts have opened a place in their hearts and homes for several families of refugees and every year literally hundreds of local volunteers assist with the annual food hamper program run by Manitoulin Family Resources. The folks at the Manitoulin radio stations stepped up this year to create a new community dinner to bring people together, complete with local musicians providing holiday music to entertain.

While the Christmas season tends to generate these outpourings of acts of kindness, proving the adage that kindness begets kindness, such a benevolent contagion is something we all should endeavour to extend through the entire year.

The eddies that spread out from each random act of kindness will help to improve all of our lives and make things just that little bit better for everyone in the coming year.

Process questioned on Northeast Town hiring

Town responds that all appropriate hiring processes were followed

To the Expositor:

The November 30 issue of this paper featured an advertisement from the Town of Northeastern Manitoulin and the Islands, looking for a full-time Public Works Assistant Foreman. The ad stated that the application deadline was Monday, December 5, 2016 at noon.

Question: Why did NEMI even advertise the job, as prior to November 30 they had already asked an ex-employee, who had quit his job after a year's service, to come work for them again? When I spoke with a councillor a few days before the application deadline, he said that he had just heard about it and was told that the man in question, hired for this job, was hired on a contract. Sounds kind of shady to me?

Thanks for your time,

Stacey Eadie
Howland Township

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Expositor contacted Northeast Town CAO Dave Williamson for comment, which follows here: "As the position is critical, it was filled with a short term employee on a contract basis. The position was then advertised and awarded to the candidate that best fit the position. The successful candidate was also the person employed on the short term contract. All appropriate hiring processes were followed."

Writer expresses her loss of faith in Rainbow School Board

A clear lack of transparency in the process

To the Expositor:

As a parent of a school that was slated to be closed along with 11 others in the latest Rainbow District School Board (RDSB) Accommodation review, I was tasked with coming up with "creative solutions" to a yearly $3.6 million shortfall. While I felt that this was not my role as a parent and that the RDSB had financial advisors for this, I undertook it with as much enthusiasm as I could. The end result if I did nothing was that my child's school and community would be decimated. I have witnessed the annihilation of our community services under the "Greater City of Sudbury" and wasn't prepared to watch one of the last remaining resources (our schools) vanish as well.

It wasn't up to me to expose the fact that a multi-million dollar soccer bubble was well underway with architectural drawings, and $1 million having been set aside for soccer turf and offered up to the City by Tyler Campbell at Norm Blaseg's request. This deal was uncovered in an FOI (Freedom of Information request) that resulted in Ward 2 Trustee Tyler Campbell stepping down as a result of this conflict of interest. RDSB Chair Doreen Dewar felt it appropriate to let the media know that he was not stepping down due to this conflict, but rather has become too busy in his role as a manager with the city. If that is the case, then our trustee just quit in the middle of the largest single school closure review. To make matters worse, while the RDSB has revealed their budget in August (as they have in 2013, 2014, 2015) they waited until all the presentations were done with parents and students begging for their schools and announced the very next day (although hidden until December this time) that they don't have a shortfall to compensate for but rather a surplus of $3.6 million instead. That means that they were able to find an extra $7.2 million to not only cover their projected shortfall, but to add a significant portion of this to their reserves which are near $15 million at this time.

One would think that this accommodation review would be halted, yet it appears to be going full steam ahead in Area 2, which has three schools affected without representation. In the 2014 municipal election, Tyler Campbell was the chosen candidate with 57 percent of the votes. The runner up was Anita Gibson with a very handsome 43 percent of the vote. The Rainbow School board has chosen to 'appoint' a trustee for us because quite simply they don't seem to like Anita Gibson. It does not seem to matter to the Rainbow School Board that 1,265 of us chose her to represent us. According to the Ontario Good Governance guide, the first option in choosing a replacement is "appointing the candidate who came in second in the general election." The other option is to hold a by-election. Chair Dewar stated that "the remaining trustees, who were all democratically elected, have already voted to move forward with an appointment instead." Since when do eight out of the nine trustees take over the "democratic process" and decide who represents our area? Why are they so opposed to this candidate?

It would be like me saying to Trustee Grace Fox that the First Nations don't need their own police service on the Island with OPP so close by, or saying to Trustee Bob Clement that the McKerron Fire Department doesn't need their own trucks and station when Espanola F.D. is more than equipped to respond instead. When second count, they are only minutes away. Is that not good enough for them? Would they be happy with someone from Onaping Falls making those decisions on behalf of their community? Why then are they making decisions for my small town when the constituents have already recorded their voice?

It is no secret that I have lost faith in the RDSB's ability to make rational and sound financial decisions. I am now being force fed their idea of what will be best for my community and my child's education. There has been a clear lack of transparency in this process—and it was clearly an exercise in futility. Instead of pushing pause on the school closures, they are willing to forge ahead with a bank full of surplus money and fulfill their agenda at all costs. These costs should not include our community voice being stifled. I am demanding that the RDSB either appoint the one and only person who has shown genuine interest in becoming the Area 2 Trustee (Anita Gibson) or to call a by-election—regardless of the cost. To continue to make "democratic decisions" that appear to be anything but aren't acceptable.

Chantelle Gorham
Levack

EDITOR'S NOTE: Tyler Campbell announced his decision to step down from his elected role as trustee citing the workload contingent with his role at the City of Greater Sudbury and the need to interact with a wide range of community groups in that role. No connection was made by the City, the Rainbow Board or Mr. Campbell between his decision to step down to the released email content or the proposed soccer dome.

Over $49,000 gifted to Island students at 47th Awards Night

by Alicia McCutcheon

MANITOULIN—Once again, Manitoulin Island has shown its generous spirit with over $49,000 in cash donations handed out during the 47th annual Manitoulin Secondary School (MSS) Awards Night December 22.

“We are so proud of our graduates,” said MSS Principal Laurie Zahnow in her message to the audience. “They are a part of Manitoulin Secondary School’s colourful history. Their contributions have left a unique mark on our school. It is our sincere hope that we have been able to prepare our graduates with the skills necessary to be successful in their chosen area of interest. We at Manitoulin Secondary School have every confidence that our graduates will continue to be outstanding citizens of our Canadian communities. We trust that we have played an important role in assisting them to accomplish their goals.”

For the first time in her tenure, Rainbow District School Board Chair Doreen Dewar was in attendance and on the stage to give her greetings.

Ms. Dewar shared a story about actress Gilda Radner and her pet dog who was involved in an accident while pregnant. The accident left the dog with badly injured legs and needing surgery, unlikely to walk again. The dog did learn to walk again, in a rather strange way and soon gave birth to six healthy puppies who all learned to walk the same way as their mother.

“The story teaches us that we can learn through example and that, no matter what the challenge, you face it head on,” Ms. Dewar said.

The board chair told the students that MSS staff led, challenged, guided and pushed them to achieve a goal, as did the parents and guardians who were there on that first day of school and in the audience that night.

Rainbow Board First Nations Trustee Grace Fox also addressed the students, saying “you will be touched by the generous spirit of Manitoulin people. I hope you pass on that spirit.”

Ms. Fox noted she was “astounded” at times to hear where Manitoulin students are. “Tonight exemplifies the generosity of spirit and giving—I hope they will continue to make us proud in their future endeavours.”

Robin, snowy owl spotted during annual Christmas bird count

by Chris Bell

MINDEMOYA—Two thousand nine-hundred and forty-five birds of 45 species were counted on the 43rd annual Mindemoya Christmas Bird Count on Saturday, December 17. Uncommon birds for this time of year included a Canada goose on Hare's Creek, one snowy owl, an American Robin, a red-winged blackbird and a hoary redpoll.

Most numerous birds this year were 760 American goldfinches, 378 black-capped chickadees, 210 pine siskins and 207 starlings.

Twenty-nine feeder watchers, including three new volunteers, took part this year. There were 21 birders, including three new recruits, in seven groups.

There had been lots of snow before count day, leaving 30 to 40 cm on the ground making some longer walks impractical. The Manitou River walk was cancelled but the Lake Huron shoreline walk went ahead with snowshoes and was much enjoyed.

The large inland lakes including Lake Manitou and Lake Kagawong were open but largely devoid of waterfowl. Six types of ducks were seen on the count, including a single long-tailed duck in West Bay. Thirteen red-necked grebes were also found in West Bay. There were very few common mergansers and almost no gulls this year.

Last year we found 44 bald eagles but many have moved away from Manitoulin this month after a successful nesting season and we counted only 14.

One snowy owl was reported to birders. We have now had a snowy owl on four of the last five counts.

There are more red-bellied woodpeckers here this year and 12 were reported on the count. Manitoulin is the furthest north that this woodpecker ventures and the first Mindemoya report was in 1987.

Blue jay numbers vary from winter to winter and this count of 141 is very low with most observers noting fewer than usual at bird feeders.

The usual selection of finches is here this winter. We had record numbers of both American goldfinches, 760, and purple finches, 142. There were several large flocks of pine siskins and common redpolls have started to move in. The single hoary redpoll was with a flock of common redpolls. Very few pine grosbeaks were reported.

Some lucky people were able to find evening grosbeaks. Evening grosbeaks have declined for unknown reasons throughout their range. We had them at Mindemoya on every count from 1974 to 1999 with counts in most years being over a hundred and a peak of 451 in 1987. The 10 found this year is the highest total since 2005.

Seven feeder-watchers had red-bellied woodpeckers and eight had cardinals. Dark-eyed Juncos were found at four of the feeders and tree sparrows at three feeders. No other sparrows were noted this year. Terri Thompson of Spring Bay reported 12 species and gets the 2016 Feeder Watcher Award.

The Mindemoya Christmas Bird Count is a project of the National Audubon Society and the Manitoulin Nature Club.

Here is the full list of birds seen: 1 Canada goose; 32 black duck; 88 mallard; 1 long-tailed duck; 4 bufflehead; 90 common goldeneye; 9 common merganser; 24 ring-necked pheasant; 7 ruffed grouse; 13 red-necked grebe; 14 bald eagle; 1 red-tailed hawk; 4 rough-legged hawk; 2 ring-billed gull; 5 herring gull; 44 rock pigeon; 137 mourning dove; 1 snowy owl; 12 red-bellied woodpecker; 30 downy woodpecker; 41 hairy woodpecker; 8 pileated woodpecker; 1 northern shrike; 141 blue jay; 61 American crow; 110 common raven; 378 black-capped chickadee; 20 red-breasted nuthatch; 46 white-breasted nuthatch; 1 American robin; 207 European starling; 104 bohemian waxwing; 32 snow bunting; 16 American tree sparrow; 13 dark-eyed junco; 19 northern cardinal; 1 red-winged blackbird; 1 common grackle; 4 pine grosbeak; 142 purple finch; 99 common redpoll; 1 hoary redpoll; 210 pine siskin; 760 American goldfinch; and 10 evening grosbeaks.

Ice Chips and Canoe Quips

Manitoulin Sporting Life

Ice Chips to Canoe Quips

by Larry and André Leblanc

Ice Chips

The Sudbury Nickel Capital Wolves have been awarded the 2018 Canadian AAA Midget Championships. They won the gold in 2008 in Arnprior. This year (2017) they will host the Central Regional Championships with the winner travelling to Prince George, British Columbia for the Telus Cup. Little Current's Braeden Case is a stalwart on defense for the present Wolves. Playing defense at six feet, 176lbs, Braeden is a swift-skating stay-at-home defenseman who is the consummate team player. By the way, the Wolves are advertising for 2 forwards who they must sigh by January 10, not much time.

Jerry J. Debassige and his hard working group of volunteers carried off another successful "Family Cup Tournament" in M'Chigeeng over the holidays. Congrats to War Laur's Fun-Jam on winning the A championships and to Mr. Debassige for his tireless work.

Here's a shout out to Kiara Dokis Recollet of Birch Island/Whitefish River. The daughter of Veronica Recollet, Kiara is a member of the Sudbury Northern High School Braves where she anchors the defense. Her team recently completed in a High School Tournament in Petawawa (The town was the subject of the CBC's Hockey Night in Canada Home Town Hockey this past Sunday evening.)

Former Little Current Flyer and Manitoulin Panther J.R. Clarke continues his love for "the game." J.R. has two sons in competitive hockey; one is a goalie, the other a skater. Good luck to Deakon and Colby as they climb the hockey ladder. Dad J.R. was a hardworking winger who played all 185 feet of the rink. The 'never-say-die' teammate also had a scoring touch. Hats off to John Robert for keeping the Clarkes a hockey family!

A product of the Wikwemikong Hawks and Sudbury Lady Wolves, Aurora Ominika Enosse, recently had a hat-trick game for the North York Lady Storm in a 7-5 victory. Aurora now attends school in Toronto.

Sladen Peltier has completed his portion of the movie "Indian Horse" where he plays the lead role as a 9-10 year old. His section of the film took him close to 3 months to complete. Once done, he resumed his normal schedule, where he competed in the Ottawa Bell Capital Cup Tournament where he immediately picked up a "player of the game" award. Sladen plays for the West End Atom Ice Hawks where he is a strong offensive threat. This lad has a lot of energy!

The Paul and Koreen Lewis Family of Wikwemikong has long been strong hockey advocates. They still have a daughter Dana playing goal for both the Sudbury Lake Wolves and the High School St. Charles College Cardinals. So now they have moved on to the grandchildren. They travelled to the Gatineau/Alymer P.Q. area to take in Tyke Mya's tournament. Paul made a promise to the young girl prior to the games that if she scored a goal he would construct an outdoor rink for her. Fortunately or unfortunately, (depending on your viewpoint), Mya smiled all the way to a 5 goal tournament total! This included a goal in the Championship game, which they won. True to this word, Paul was up to 2:30 am when they returned from Gatineau, freezing his feet as little miss plays for the Gatineau Les Tournades (Tornados). The tourney was the Festival M.A.H.G. en Fete 2016. Still more travelling to do Paul and Koreen!

Kelly Babstock continues to shine with her professional NWHL team, the Connecticut Whale. The former Division One, player of the year (203 point in 147 games with Quinnipiac University) Kelly has picked up 12 points in 8 games divided evenly between goals and assists.

Owen Case, Sault Ste. Marie AAA Minor PeeWee (son of Matt and Leanne Case), plays forward in the Northern Ontario AAA league. In his most recent games (December 17), they won two and tied one vs. the North Bay Trappers in North Bay.

Mustang minute

The Mustang senior girls' volleyball team opened their season with games at MSS. The girls played very well ending the day with a 3 and 1 record. The team was led by the impressive hitting and defence of Kristina Renwick and Lyric Peltier as well as some outstanding serving by Delaney Madore. A good effort by the whole team which includes Nekoma Naokwegijig, Jessica Marshall, Bethany Wesno, Lauren Rohn, Jackie Cooper, Nea Saunders and Brianna Callaghan.

First Nations' Basketball opportunity

CMPS girls' volleyball season wraps up on a high note

by Leah Carrick, Madison Skippen and Zoe Redmond
MINDMEOYA—The Central Manitoulin Public School girls' volleyball team played two tournaments, December 7 and 8, winning the Island tournament undefeated and placing third out of 19 teams in Sudbury.

In Sudbury the girls would start every game a bit behind after losing their first serve, but came back strong. The girls played four games in their pool and won all of them taking first place in their pool with a perfect eight points.

Next, the girls played their first playoff game, winning the game handily. The girls then went on to win their quarterfinal game against Valleyview. In the girls' third game in the semifinals they were very close with the other team but Chelmsford ended up coming out ahead 25-23 to knock CMPS out of the tournament. Although the girls were a little bit disappointed that they lost the game, they were happy to have made it so far in the Rainbow District School Board tournament.

In Little Current (the Island tournament) the CMPS girls played five teams one game each. In the beginning of every game the girls started off slow, behind by approximately two points then started to catch up by having many good serves. Slowly but surely, the CMPS team regained their strength and came back strong winning each game by an average of 13 points, taking home the Island championship trophy with 125 points for them and only 59 points against them, and claiming their well deserved first place.

When asked what she thought the team did well, team captain Hailey McGillis-Prior answered, "We had good communication skills and we had a lot of setting. We also controlled our bumps."

Next up for the team is the co-ed volleyball tournament in Wikwemikong on January 19.

 company repeat the “Hurrah” with the same intonation, then the miccinawe: “Hurrah”, the company: “Hurrah,” the micc.: “Hurrah,” then the company “Hurrah” and then guns are discharged. The ceremony is repeated three times for a Black Robe and once for a chief. As we were two priests there were six serenades, six “Hurrahs,” and six gun shots. Then the leaders of the company came and greeted the Black Robes, offering their hands. The Black Robe gives something, some cake or some sugar or tobacco and pipes and makes little cakes for all the visitors.”

January 1 1845: “All the natives, grands et petits, came to greet us. Some knelt, others genuflected, others only offered their hand. This seems to be a custom degenerated from coming to ask their Father’s blessing.”

The New Year’s gatherings continued and soon evolved into competitions between Manitowaning and Wikwemikong. In 1848-49 the Jesuits recorded that Manitowaning officials had provided their Indian visitors with larger and fatter bread rolls, well-sugared cups of tea, and greetings from not only the superintendent, but the doctor, school master and Anglican minister, while the volume and quality of the Wik-wemikong bread rolls had diminished since the previous year.

Rev. Peter Jacobs, the Anishinaabe minister, described New Years at Manitowaning in January 1863-64.

“On New Year’s Eve about 20 Indians paid a visit to the superintendent, to myself, and to Dr. Layton. They also visited some of the other people in the village. The evening was very stormy but this did not prevent them from making their accustomed New Year’s Eve visit. They were dressed up in true Indian style. Their faces were painted with vermilion and black paint, Eagle, hawk, owl and turkey smitts were fastened on their heads and a string of quills hanging from one shoulder like a belt. One had a beautiful headdress of feathers which hung halfway down his back. One had a drum and another a rattle. While they were at the superintendent’s they were asked to sing and dance as the Indians in former days used to do. Presently the head man of the party, who was neatly dressed, took the drum and sang a war song, and about six of the Indians danced round and round, one of them shaking the rattle. While dancing they occasionally gave the war whoop. The dancing and singing were very exciting. The Indians went through the same performance at the other houses. They received something at each house. It is only once or twice a year that they dress themselves in the way I have described. New Years Day was a very stormy day. Comparatively few in consequence attended church. Nearly all who went to church wore snow shoes, women as well as men. After the service all the Indians called at all the houses, where they received cakes.”

In addition to greetings and gifts among the community, chiefs and warriors from as far away as Shishigwaning and Mitchegegewedonong (M’Chigeeng) visited, and social calls were exchanged between priests and officials at Wikwemikong and Manitowaning.

At Manitowaning New Year’s 1866-67 would have included the usual visits, greetings and gifts, however several medical emergencies meant the festivities were not recorded. Dr. Thomas Simpson, the newly appointed medical doctor, responded to two urgent requests from Little Current while Rev. Jabez Sims, walked to South Bay to offer spiritual and medical help for Chief Wabenasemin. By the end of the first week of 1867, Mr. Abrey’s child and an un-named Anishinaabe woman had recovered, but the chief had succumbed to his injuries and been buried.

At Wikwemikong, on December 31 1866: “The Warriors and Natives came as ordinarily wishing Happy New Year about 6 o’clock in the evening. We gave them the customary presents. The Daughters of Mary visited.” On January 1: “Everything as usual. Fine weather, quite mild. The ice in the bay is very weak. The Congregations came, one by one, wishing Happy New Year. The Fathers visited the Daughters of Mary.” The following day however another medical emergency arose and the Father Superior travelled to Jiboananing (Killarney) to attend to the elder Salomon.

On Manitoulin in 2017, 150 years later, residents still exchange greetings and step up to assist in emergencies. The only marked difference is that they are no longer obliged to walk between Manitowaning and Little Current, or South Bay to do so. EDITOR’S NOTE: Shelley Pearen has been researching Manitoulin history for Gauthier said that the board will be confirming the contractor for the new call bell system in the near future, with the installation to follow.

“The new system will improve the safety and comfort of our residents and assist staff with responding to residents’ needs,” said Ms. Gauthier.

As of January 1, 2017, the Manor has launched a new fundraising campaign to raise $75,000 for patient ceiling lifts.

“This automated system will help ensure the comfort of the residents and assist staff as well,” explained Ms. Gauthier. “The funds will pay for eight lifts for targeted rooms where the system is needed.”

In celebration of the Manitoulin Centennial Manor’s 50th anniversary there will be a Golden Gala on Saturday, May 6 at the Little Current recreation centre. The event will include both a silent and live auction, dinner, dance and assorted other draws and raffles, with all funds raised going towards the new lifts.

Nations Emergency Force to resolve the Suez Canal Crisis. He is ranked among the top six greatest Canadian prime ministers, despite (or as some suggest, because of) never having led a majority government.

“We have just received confirmation from the National Archives that we will have access to many items directly associated with Mike Pearson,” said Mr. Nelson.

During Pearson’s time as prime minister, his Liberal minority governments introduced universal health care, student loans, the Canada Pension Plan, the Order of Canada and the Maple Leaf flag. He kept Canada out of the Vietnam War and in 1967 his government passed a bill that effectively abolished capital punishment in Canada by restricting it to a few capital offenses (for which it was never used).

Mr. Pearson is indisputably one of the most influential Canadians of the 20th century.

The Pearson display will be presenting a number of challenges, however, as Mr. Nelson notes that the cost to ship the items to the Island from their permanent home in Ottawa will likely come in around the $10,000 mark. “It will certainly be a challenge (to raise the funds),” admitted Mr. Nelson, “but we are already working on that.”

Patricia Pearson, Mr. Pearson’s granddaughter, has also been confirmed as a guest speaker for the History Day series.

Asked if the Nobel Prize be among the items on display for the event, Mr. Nelson responded “I certainly hope so,” but the details of exactly what items will be part of the display have not yet been worked out.

Judging from previous History Day in Kagawong events, the Pearson exhibit will likely set a new high water mark for the series and a particularly poignant for Canada’s 150th celebrations.

needed before the eastern trails are opened.

"We're waiting for snow and cold weather," said Snowdusters president Doran McVey in a Monday interview. "Trails are still closed because there's not enough snow."

While the groomers did head out on trails on Manitoulin's West End and in the Little Current and Sheguiandah areas before Christmas, the warm weather and rain since mean that the trails have had a setback.

As reported last month, the Snowdusters turned to the Northeast Town after key parcels of land were removed from the trail system by four landowners in the Sheguiandah and Honora areas.

The Snowdusters found two unopened road allowances which they felt could be of benefit for them: the first is a road allowance that runs in a north/south direction along the west side of the Sheguiandah First Nation, and more particularly, the part that runs from Indian Mountain Road southward to Red Lodge Road (Bidwell Lot 1, Concession 7 to Sheguiandah Lot 1, Concession 9); and second, the road allowance that runs in an east/west direction from the 20th Sideroad west to join into Guida Sideroad (where municipal road maintenance starts), and from there out to Hwy. 540 (Howland Concession 1 and 3).

Northeast Town CAO Dave

Williamson explained to council at the Tuesday, December 20 council meeting that he had met with representatives of the Snowdusters and explained the request to council.

"I think it is really important to establish a connection for the trails," said Councillor Michael Erskine. "Especially for Little Current, which is current cut off (from the rest of the trails). It sounds like this will have the least impact on local landowners and seems like a good solution to the problem."

Councillor Paul Skippen expressed concerns with fences being removed on the unopened road allowances for the trails. Mr. Williamson stated, "It would not be unreasonable to add a condition that, if a gate is removed, it must be added back at the end of the season." The condition was added to the motion.

"Why did this come up in the first place?" questioned Councillor Bill Koehler. "Why were good trails cut off? This is unfortunate as there is not much for families to do in the winter."

"I support this request from the Snowdusters," said Councillor Marcel Gauthier. "People come here to use our trails and it stimulates our economy in the winter. It is a good resolution and I will support it."

"It is unfortunate that the trails were cut off, but it was on private property," said Councillor Erskine. "People have a right to enjoy their private property and allow usage as they see fit. We needed to find a solution that works for everyone and this one does."

The conditions asked for by council are: that the Snowdusters provide the municipality with evidence of permission from Sheguiandah First Nation for the use of the road allowance that abuts the reserve; it is the responsibility of the Manitoulin Snowdusters to ensure all work being done is on municipal property and the municipality will not be held responsible for any damage done or work performed on private property; Manitoulin Snowdusters will provide the Northeast Town with proof of insurance with the municipality as a named insured for the development and maintenance of the trail system at a rate of $5 million on an annual basis; any and all trees removed from the road allowance will be offered to the adjacent landowner; all work done will be subject to supervision and approval of the manager of public works; and any fencing removed for the development of the trail will be reinstated at the end of each season.

Both motions for the use of the unopened road allowances were carried by council.

Mr. McVey said that the Snowdusters are in the process of setting up a meeting with Sheguiandah First Nation chief and council but until that happens, coupled with the need for more snow and cold weather, all snowmobilers can do is wait.

...Norisle Steamship Society lawsuit seeks $10 million from Assiginack

town and the Society. "The parties acted in accordance with their joint venture team effort up until the latter part of 2015, when in November the municipality abruptly and without discussion or notice withdrew its support," the claim states. "On July 4, 2016, seven months after the municipality locked out the Steamship Society, the plaintiff received a letter from the municipality stating that all support for the Steamship Society and S. S. Norisle project as proved by the MOU (Memorandum of Understanding) was withdrawn. The plaintiff states that the municipality's above described action breached their joint agreement and ended the joint venture relationship. This was done without good reason and without any discussion with the Steamship Society. The municipality breached its duty of good faith, trust, honesty and reasonable forthrightness. The lack of any attempt at communication with the Steamship Society was in itself an unreasonable action. The plaintiff made numerous attempts to reengage the defendant, all of which were rejected."

The Steamship Society claimed a breach of fiduciary duty as well. "The plaintiff reposed trust and confidence in the municipality," the claim states. "It trusted that the municipality would act reasonably in fulfilling the objectives of the joint venture and MOU and continues to work towards securing funding for the project. The plaintiff felt betrayed when the municipality withdrew its support." The claim also sites unjust enrichment and constructive trust, negligence, damages and a restraining order.

The Expositor contacted the S.S. Norisle

Steamship Society Director of Restoration John Coulter and long-time member Rob Maguire, who both said they were unable to comment on the Norisle or the lawsuit.

The Expositor also contacted Assiginack Mayor Paul Moffatt inquiring if the municipality had received the lawsuit, to which the mayor responded, "It's common knowledge that we have."

As to the claims, Mayor Moffatt said he had "no comment" and that the matter had been handed over to the municipality's insurance provider.

The lawsuit was the topic of the Assiginack council's in camera session at the Tuesday, December 20 meeting, but no motions were made as a result.

As The Expositor previously reported, Assiginack had begun negotiations with the TMA in the fall of 2016 regarding the sale/donation of the S.S. Norisle to be relocated to Tobermory, sunk and used as a dive site.

TMA representative Michael Marcotte spoke to The Expositor earlier this week, stating that the TMA would be proceeding with its plans for the Norisle, despite hearing the news of the lawsuit.

"If the Steamship Society is able to successfully make the Norisle into a cruise ship—fantastic—it would be beautiful to see it sailing again," said Mr. Marcotte, "but if it doesn't work and it's going to be scrapped, it is part of history and we want to keep it available to the public. We aren't stopping—I just put the last permit in a few days ago and we are still planning to go ahead with obtaining the Norisle and sinking it to be made into a dive site in the event that the Steamship Society isn't successful."

Mr. Marcotte said he had been following the efforts to make the Norisle a cruise ship and came to the Island with his wife last summer to see the vessel.

"I asked the municipal office as to the status of the ship and they said they had no plans and were looking to get rid of it," said Mr. Marcotte. "We called a TMA meeting to investigate bringing the S.S. Norisle back to Tobermory as a dive site. I have submitted all the paperwork for approvals with the Ministry of Transportation, Department of Fisheries and Oceans and Ministry of Natural Resources and Forestry. We are just waiting to hear back."

The TMA was formed in 1998 and obtained and sank the Niagara II in May of 1999, said Mr. Marcotte. Since then the TMA has created four additional dive sites in addition to working in partnership with Parks Canada overseeing the Fathom Five National Marine Park, with a total of 28 ship wrecks.

If the TMA obtains the necessary permits and the Norisle, the ship will be sunk in Little Cove.

Little Cove is home to two other ship wrecks: the Niagara II and the Lady Dufferin and Mr. Marcotte said that the S. S. Norisle would be sunk between the two.

The Norisle has been in the municipality's care since 1975 and, according to the original agreement, was to revert back to provincial ownership this year.

KTEI gifts Christmas hampers to students

by Betty Bardswich

M'CHIGEENG—For the past three years, Kenjgewin Teg Educational Institute (KTEI) has purchased non-perishable food stuffs to send the students home for the Christmas and New Year's holidays with food hampers stuffed to the brim.

These foods allow students to stretch their food budget over this season following the completion of exams and projects and this year 58 students benefited from this program. As KTEI Education Counsellor Brian Bisson explained, "As with many families, this time of year can be very stressful financially and otherwise."

As well as the food hampers, those students who have young children received Christmas gifts. These presents were made possible with the assistance of the Manitoulin Sudbury District Services Board, Manitoulin Family Resources and the Sudbury group Our Children, Our Future and Santa Claus was on hand to give toys and other gifts to the appreciative parents.

FREE! WINTER WORKSHOP SERIES

*Winter's here, there is no doubt. No need to cry. No need to shout.
Embrace the day right from the start, but don't forget to dress the part.
You need a scarf, both young and old, to help protect you from the cold.
So wear this gift, from us to you, and feel its warmth when ere you do!*

The gift of warmth
Christmas Day, some kind local soul decorated half a dozen lamp posts in downtown Little Current with hand-knit scarves like this one, in various colours and knitting patterns. Each scarf had attached to it the note shown here, welcoming people to take one if they needed a little warmth.

Providence Bay News and Notes

The organizers of the Halloween Dance noted the omission of the Wigwam Gift Shop and Motel when donors were thanked. So thank you to them as well.

The free skating that was sponsored by the Providence Bay/Spring Bay Recreation Committee was well received. It continues over the Christmas Break until January 8, 2017 with public skating from 1-3 pm every afternoon except January 7 when it's held at 7-9 pm. Shinny is also held every day until the 8th from 3-4 pm. The fun doesn't stop there though, it continues all winter long with programming on Saturdays from 7-9 pm and Sundays at 1-3 pm. Shinny is held Fridays from 7-8 pm. Moms and Tots is held every Saturday from 10:30-11:30 am.

Toots McDermid enjoyed visitors Porky and Lila Lockyer along with Dean and Darlene Lockyer of Little Current over the Christmas season.

Belated 48th anniversary wishes go out to Anna and Don Orford who celebrated on December 28, 2016.

The New Year's Eve Dance was hosted by the Providence Bay/Spring Bay Lions Club and was a full house. This is an excellent annual event and was a great time with a silent auction, 50:50 draws, a light lunch, party favours and the DJ John Roy kept people up on the dance floor until 2 am. All funds that are raised by the Lions Club are spent in our own community. Keep up the great work.

The new year provides an opportunity for some people to set resolutions or goals for the upcoming year. A great idea that we heard of was to start the year with an empty mason jar. Every time something good happens or you feel particularly happy, add a note to the jar. On New Year's Eve empty the jar and read about the amazing year you had.

Don't forget about the monthly breakfast on Thursday, January 5 at the Providence Bay Curling Club. Breakfast is served from 7-9 am.

Mark your calendar for the Pearson Brothers Memorial Hockey Tournament being held on January 13, 14 and 15 at the Providence Bay Area as advertised on Central Manitoulin's Facebook page. Assistant Rink Attendants are wanted to work during the tournament. This is a great opportunity for students to earn some money. Applicants must be available for the length of the tournament. Training will be provided. For more information or to express interest, please call Providence Bay Arena 705-377-4090 and leave a message. Please respond by January 6, 2017.

If there is anything that you would like to contribute to The Providence Bay News and Notes, we'd love to hear from you. You can email prov_chick@hotmail.com or call Cheryl at 705-377-7511. All submissions are required by 3 pm on the Sunday before each Wednesday publication of the paper. Have a great week.

Ah yes, the New Year has arrived, where we say or think 'I need to make a change.' The word change scares most of us—we do not like change. I prefer "I need to improve my habits." Take small steps one at a time (and then all of sudden you have made a change).

Cooking, eating and exercising right is very important. Keeping your health goals throughout the year means eating healthy, a small step at a time. Here are a few tips to get you going.

1. We brush our teeth at least twice a day every day without thinking about it. When you wake up do the 5T5 exercises (check them on YouTube) without thinking about it—just do them.
2. Change your bread and cereal. Check the ingredient list and buy the kind that doesn't have the word "sugar" in it.
3. Eat vegetables at every opportunity. Eat them as snacks and part of your meals—half of your plate to be exact.
4. Try one new recipe a week. Most people never dust off or crack open their cookbook.
5. Make a healthy meal using beans and lentils.
6. Eat more healthy fats; avocados, seeds and unrefined, cold pressed oils.

Mediterranean Lentil Sandwich

I turned this recipe into a dip because I am not a huge fan of "sandwiches." I would rather eat vegetables or crackers. To make the mixture creamier, just add a bit of water, one tablespoon at a time, otherwise leave as is for the sandwich. The chunkier the better. I switched the walnuts to pumpkin seeds. This makes enough for 5 sandwiches.

- 2/3 cup brown or green lentils
- 3/4 cup oil-packed sun-dried tomatoes
- 1/3 cup walnuts, pumpkin seeds, sunflower seeds or your preference
- 1/3 cup pitted kalamata olives
- 2 garlic cloves, minced
- 1/2 small onion, chopped
- Juice of 1 lemon
- 2 tsp fresh thyme
- 1 tsp paprika
- Salt and pepper to taste
- 3 roasted red peppers, sliced or a fresh, sweet red pepper sliced
- Lettuce

Place lentils in medium-sized saucepan along with 3 cups water. Bring to a boil, reduce heat, and simmer for 20 minutes, or until very tender. Drain and let cool.

Place lentils, sun-dried tomatoes, walnuts, olives, onion, garlic, lemon juice, thyme, and paprika in food processor container and blend until slightly chunky texture forms.

To assemble each sandwich, spread some lentil mixture on a bread slice and top with roasted red pepper, lettuce, and another slice of bread.

There's a first time for a couple of things

Milanece (Ting) Oliver says she has never won anything, or had her picture in The Expositor, but there is a first time for everything, or in this case a couple of things—because Ms. Oliver won the Little Current Edgewater PharmaChoice Pharmacy grand opening grand prize draw on December 13 for a Drive Medical Scout, a transportable electric scooter. If you are going to do it, do it right! The scooter boasts a 14-month warranty and can move out at a respectable 4.5 mile an hour clip for 15 miles. It has an MSRP of $1,650, but you can snag one at PharmaChoice for $1,350. Pharmacist Diane Meehan and owner Jim Roszell join Ms. Oliver in the photograph of the prize scooter.

Tehkummah Talk and Times

Miss Keisha Bell was with her grandparents, Sheila and Fred Armstrong, at our pre-Christmas bingo (she sure looks like her Mama!) (She won too!). She's from the West!

Tara was hobbling around; she had fallen down the icy steps in the morning. Tuesday, she and Skye were in for tea and snacks, and she's pretty sore today, shoulder and backside!

Cal was in for a bit; he never stays long, going to visit Eugene Wednesday. Tara took me with her when she went shopping in Mindemoya. She, Skylar and I had lunch at the Grill and Chill.

Woke up singing, "If I could turn back the pages of time!"

Thursday laundry, and appointment with the lovely Dr. Wong. (Now had I pictured the Dr. as a man!)

Talking to Audrey and Helen this morning. I'm not one for phoning, as everyone knows. Audrey was alone, her family going different directions.

Nikki was coming to visit today. Helen excited about their pre-Christmas get together when their family makes traditional perogies Christmas Eve day and everyone gets involved.

Christmas Eve service at St. Andrews was pretty special, and a full church, as the story was told, and with music. Mum, Pauline and I were a trio, and Linda McNaughton had a solo. My, um, other decade was mentioned, and so the "Happy Birthday" to "me" was sung. It was great to have the church organ working again. Apparently Gary fixed it with just a chainsaw and hammer! Good!

Well, two days of feasting and opening so far. We all gathered at Pauline's and Wayne's on Christmas Eve for the traditional dinner. Anita, Alicia and Samantha were visiting.

Christmas morning then at Tara's and Ray's opening gifts and breakfast. Grandma Marg was visiting there and Grandma Marion came with Sherry and Dave. Santa is good!

Mum opted out of Christmas Day in favour of leisure time, she did so much baking and getting ready. (Not like me.) We all gathered at Sherry and Dave's. Dave is getting around really well since his hip surgery. Only ten there for supper, another delicious feast. Jacob, Sherry, Tara and I had a game of Tiki after the crowd had dispersed, I must have been the winner cause I had the most points?? I didn't get a Tiki till the last hand, "fun"!

Boxing Day, rain!

Christmas phone call from Jodi and Derek. Talked to Kim and Kath and Kirby while at Sherry's.

Cal brought in a nice gift package on his way home from dinner with the Pyettes in Mindemoya. Thanks Critchlow family for everything. Sorry I missed you again!

Sympathy to the family of Ted Bowerman. Ted was locally raised and farm owner in Tehkummah Township. Has spent his last few years in Elliot Lake.

Susan Ward told me Thursday that Harold Kirk had passed away, sympathy to his family.

Just a couple of days until I have encountered fully another decade, and for gosh sakes, I never figured I'd even make 50, and here 30 years later??

I talked to Jeneen Phillips today who had just got out of hospital, spent Christmas there due to a severe reaction to chemo. Hope all goes well from here on.

I stopped and beat Cal a couple of games of cribbage on my way home from town (Manitowaning). Then stopped at Mum's and got beat three- one was a good skunk!

Mild again, roads good.

I see Ray blowing snow, it looks heavy and wet! This is my birthday, a couple of phone calls; one from Derek and Jodi out west, all is calm. My birthday surprise was on the 30th. Cal called and asked if I wanted to go for supper at Sandfield General. About 30 voices yelled surprise, and I sure was. A delicious roast beef dinner, and cake for dessert?? Gifts and cards, beautiful lighted bouquet, balloons "80" nicely decorated. A lovely evening.

Steven and Gail came all the way from Creemore, staying at the camp. Kim and Kathy from Clarksburg staying with Sherry and Dave.

Lori and Rick Gordon were down St. Catharines way over Christmas, visiting their son Jase and her sister Linda and family.

Simon's nephew Chuck, one of our newest Tehkummah landowners, was quite ill, developing shingles while he was here. Went home the day before Christmas.

We have a new neighbour in downtown Tehkummah: Lisa, Elaine Lepage's daughter, moved into Elaine's house (they've done lots of "fix-in" on it the past year or so.) So a very belated welcome to you.

And speaking of new residents, was our new little neighbour born yet?

Wayne Sparham had an icy fall and is in hospital recuperating from broken ribs. Get well soon. Everyone, watch your steps.

Monday January 2, Cal just left. He woke me up from my nap. I fell into my Lazee-girl chair after Kim and Kathy dropped me off.

I stayed at the "Cases Corner B and B." Actually a full service joint, if you know what I mean!

I have, we have, the most wonderful family. Tara, Ray and Skylar loaded me into the new higher truck (Sunday) and took me down, so I was prepared to stay over. More food, card games, cribbage, Tiki and the new, really fun Karma. More good food, visiting etc. etc. More gifts, my newest gift, a child from Africa. I was touched, plus deer steaks, chocolates and loads of stuff from Derek and Jodi. Way more than I deserve.

What a great New Year's Eve. A full house and more, family table at the hall Saturday evening, and after the "Happy New Year" salutes, a delicious buffet dinner. The music kept the floor full. All the best in 2017, full steam ahead!

LOVE--In loving memory of our beloved daughter, Kathy Love, and our dear grandson, Brody Love, who were taken from us so tragically on January 7, 2006.

We little knew that morning That God was going to call your names, In life we loved you dearly In death we do the same, It broke our hearts to lose you two

You did not go alone For part of us went with you The day God called you home.

Tonight the stars are gleaming On two lonely, silent graves Where sleeps in dreamless slumber Two we loved but could not save.

No one knows the silent heartaches

Only those who have lost can tell

Of the grief that we bear in silence

For the two we loved so well. May the winds of love blow softly

And whisper so you can hear We will always miss you and love you

And wish that you were here. Forever in our hearts, sadly missed by Mom and Dad, Grandpa and Grandma Freeman and all their families.

BOWERMAN--In loving memory of a dear mother, Vivian, who passed away January 4, 2016.

God looked around His garden And He found an empty space.

He then looked down upon the earth

And saw your tired face.

He saw the road was getting rough,

And the hills were hard to climb.

So He closed your weary eyelids,

And whispered "Peace be thine."

He put His arms around you

And lifted you to rest.

God's garden must be beautiful,

He only takes the best.

It broke our hearts to lose you,

But you didn't go alone.

For a part of us went with you,

The day God called you home.

Sadly missed and always remembered by Mary and Jim

BOWERMAN--In loving memory of our dear brother, Wade, who passed away January 8, 2009.

I have not turned my back on you so there is no need to cry.

I'm watching you from heaven just beyond the morning sky.

I've seen you almost fall apart when you could barely stand.

I asked an angel to comfort you and watched her take your hand.

She told me you are in more pain than I could ever be.

She wiped her eyes and swallowed hard then gave your hand to me.

Although you may not feel my touch or see me by your side.

I've whispered that I love you while I wiped each tear you cried.

So please try not to ache for me we'll meet again one day.

Beyond the dark and stormy sky, a rainbow lights the way.

Love you always and forever Candy, Geoff and Lily
