Central orders all Carter Bay structures removed

Rejects donation offer of three properties

by Michael Erskine
CENTRAL MANITOULIN—Letters have gone out to property owners in the former Carter Bay Development informing them that they have until May 31 to remove items from their properties that are not in compliance with municipal bylaws. Meanwhile, Central Manitoulin council has declined the donation of several properties in the development largely on "ethical" as well as practical grounds.

"Have letters gone out to property owners at Carter Bay?" queried Central Manitoulin Councillor Derek Stephens during an October 26 council meeting.

"Yes they have," replied Clerk Ruth Frawley.

The issue of how to deal with those property owners who have built structures or moved trailers and other structures onto their properties in the Carter Bay area has been debated at length at council.

The property in question is zoned as planned development, which was in response to a controversial development that saw the land "checker boarded" through the use of two holding companies. No building permits for lots sold in the development could be issued until a plan of subdivision was submitted by the developers and approved. Despite years of property sales and development

Robinson Huron Treaty revisited at four day hearing

Wiikwemkoong chief, elder and M'Chigeeng historian take the stand

by Robin Burrige

LITTLE CURRENT—The Robinson Huron Treaty trial travelled to Manitoulin last week, with court being held at the Manitoulin Hotel and Conference Centre. Three Island witnesses took the stand including Wiikwemkoong Chief Duke Peltier, Wiikwemkoong elder Rita Corbiere and M'Chigeeng historical researcher Allan Corbiere, as well as Sagamok First Nation Chief Angus Toulouse.

The legal action was launched in 2014 by the 21 First Nations within the Robinson Huron Treaty area to address the $4 annuity paid to each member residing in the territory.

"Twenty-one First Nations developed the case that was brought forward by six individuals (the Robinson Huron Treaty Trust), including myself, on behalf of all the beneficiaries," explained Chief Peltier. "An economist will be testifying what amount (for the annuity) is reasonable based on royalties and revenues that the Crown has benefited by the development of the Huron Robinson territory."

Chief Peltier said that when the treaty was signed back in 1850, "the Anishinabek leaders had a different perspective."

"They thought that they were agreeing to sharing the territory, allowing for the development of the region, but also wanted to see a benefit for their grandchildren and great grandchildren who are now before the court," added Chief Peltier.

When court started last Tuesday morning in Little Current it was noted that there had been a four-week break since the trial began in Thunder Bay.

First Nation police forces seek 'essential service' designation, comparable funding

by Alicia McCutcheon

TORONTO—The First Nations Chiefs of Police Association (FNCPA) is calling on the federal and provincial governments to deem First Nations police services as an "essential service" like their provincial counterparts, enabling them to provide adequate human resources, infrastructure, operations and maintenance resources and "sufficient, predictable and sustained funding that meets the unique needs of each department."

United Chiefs and Councils of Manitoulin (UCCM) Anishnaabe Police Services Chief of Police Rodney Nahwegahbow attended the two-day meeting in Toronto last month. He explained that the role of the FNCPA is to advocate for self-administered policing for all of Canada's Indigenous police forces. Police Chief Gary Reid of the Wikwemikong Tribal Police also attended the national meeting.

The September 9 band election results had been overturned by the M'Chigeeng Appeals Committee when it was determined that the band list used in the election was not congruent with the official list comprised under the band's membership rules and that a number of electors and candidates were ineligible to vote or run in the election under

Island elementary schools embracing robotics

Pontiac, Central, two from Assinick all up for the challenge

MINDEMOYA—Central Manitoulin Public School (CMPS) hosted Manitoulin Island's first multi-team Lego robotics conference. Mindemoya's FIRST Lego League (FLL) team was joined by the two Assinick teams for workshops put on by several mentors from the North Bay robotics teams.

"It is a great opportunity for the Manitoulin teams to get together, sharpen their skill sets, and see what each team has been up to since the start of build season," noted Assinick mentor Chris Mara.

FLL teams design, build and program a robot based on Lego Mindstorms technology to solve a series of tasks based on real-world challenges. Teams also research a real-world problem and are challenged to find a solution. This year's theme is hydro dynamics and focusses on the human water cycle.

Two challenge tables with 22 robot missions were set up. Teams

Little Current woman wins district butter tart competition

Moves on to provincials in February

by Robin Burrige

BRUCE MINES—Sally White's butter tarts have been named best in the district.

Ms. White explained that the Ontario Association of Agricultural Societies (OAAS) pick an item for the baking competition each year, changing it this year from whole wheat bread to butter tarts.

"I won the butter tart competition at the Providence Bay Fair this past summer which allowed me to enter the district competition in Bruce Mines this past weekend where I placed first," the Little Current resident shared. "Now my butter tarts will move on to the provincial competition at the Ontario Fairs (OAAS) Board meeting (convention) at the Royal York in February in 2018 (February 15 to 17)."

Ms. White was the long-time home economics teacher at Manitoulin Secondary School and has been entering baking in the Providence Bay Fair since 1971. This summer she had 75 entries at the fair.

"A good butter tart has tender but flakey pastry," said Ms. White. "The filling is moist but not too gooey."

"I think I have perfected my recipe over the years," Ms. White said of her success. "People seem to enjoy them."

Ms. White has won the provincial OAAS baking competition in the past for whole wheat bread.

When asked if she'd tried Mike Dubreuil's butter tarts yet, the famed tarts that fetched a large amount during a Manor fundraiser, she laughed and said 'not yet,' though she's heard of them and would be interested in swapping pastries.

New Wiikwemkoong education director for 20th anniversary

by Michael Erskine

WIKWEMKOONG—The line-up at the Friday, October 20 meet and greet barbecue for the new education director at the Wiikwemkoong Board of Education extended through the building and out onto the parking lot as community members stopped by to visit.

"If you want to get people out, you can't go wrong with food," laughed Faye Zaccole, who hails originally from the Aroland First Nation, but who is a band member of the Lac Seul First Nation. "I moved there when I was very young."

The new education director comes across at first greeting as a very personable Anishinabe-kwe with a soft spoken manner.

Ms. Zoccole has worked as a teacher and administrator since graduating from Lakehead University 17 years ago. "I went back for a masters of education and then worked as a principal at Martin Falls First Nation." She described her time at Martin Falls as "an excellent learning opportunity."

When the opportunity came up to come and work in Wiikwemkoong Unceded Territories "everything seemed to align," she said.

All joking aside, Ms. Zoccole said the meet and greet barbecue was "a great opportunity to meet community members in an informal set-

Technology is helping Northerners connect with specialist care closer to home

NORTHERN ONTARIO—A pilot program that makes it easier for primary care providers to get advice from medical specialists anywhere in Ontario is paying dividends for medical practitioners and patients in the North East Local Health Integration Network (North East LHIN).

The Provincial eConsult Initiative enables physicians and nurse practitioners to engage in a secure, electronic dialogue with specialists to manage patient care, without the need for a patient visit with the specialist.

"The eConsult system is a great example of how technology can improve the patient experience," said Tamara Shewciw, chief information officer at the North East LHIN. "For patients, it's helping reduce the expense and stress associated with travel, while for physicians, it's a way to get answers faster and reduce unnecessary referrals."

The Provincial eConsult initiative, a project within the Digital Health Strategy, is delivered through a strong partnership between Champlain BASE, the Ontario Telemedicine Network and OntarioMD. According to statistics from OntarioMD, about 1,300 eConsult requests were made between January 2015 and July 2017 by physicians and nurse practitioners working in the North East LHIN—the highest usage of the 12 LHINs participating in the program.

An eConsult occurs when a family physician or nurse practitioner electronically sends a question to a medical specialist. eConsults can deal with both simple and complex questions and typically follow an initial assessment or check-up of the patient performed by the requesting physician or nurse practitioner.

A legacy that will keep giving

The Manitoulin Health Centre's Telemetry Equipment Fund got a $25,000 shot in the arm from the estate of the late Sally Lachapelle in one of the largest individual contributions the hospital has ever received. Ms. Lachapelle's sister Audrey (Toots) McDermid and brothers Floyd Lockyer and Dean Lockyer (right) present a cheque to MHC CEO Derek Graham. Ms. McDermid explained that Ms. Lachapelle made the donation through her will in recognition of the outstanding treatment her late husband Larry had received from the hospital and its staff. Mr. Graham noted that the telemetry equipment will benefit clients at both MHC sites.

Algoma-Manitoulin MPP Mike Mantha collects food for those in need on Manitoulin

by Robin Burrige

MANITOULIN—Algoma-Manitoulin MPP Mike Mantha held a Fall Harvest Food Drive in support of Manitoulin Family Resources (MFR) this past weekend.

Mr. Mantha was set up at the Little Current Foodland, Manitowaning Freshmart and Mindemoya Foodland throughout Saturday (rotating between the three locations) accepting non-perishable donations.

"This is a hard time of year for people in need," said Mr. Mantha. "The food drive was absolutely fantastic. A lot of people came out to support the event. The generosity of people on Manitoulin Island is always amazing. We definitely filled up a few shelves at MFR."

Mr. Mantha has also held food drives in Elliot Lake and Blind River so far this fall.

"We were thrilled to have been a part of the food drive," said MFR Executive Director Marnie Hall Brown. "It was great to see so many people come forward to help."

If you missed the food drive, you can drop off your non-perishable donations at the MFR Help Centre at 27 Forest Street in Mindemoya (there are bins located outside for drop offs after hours). The food bank is available for those in need Tuesdays and Fridays from 10 am to 2 pm.

Please call 705-377-5532 for more information.

Royal Canadian Legion launches 2017 Poppy Campaign

by Robin Burrige

MANITOULIN—Across Canada last Friday, the Royal Canadian Legion launched its annual Poppy Campaign. In Little Current, Northeast Town Mayor Al MacNevin signed the Poppy Proclamation with Branch #177, officially kicking off the campaign in his municipality.

Each year from the last Friday in October to Remembrance Day, Legions across Canada conduct the campaign to honour those who serve and to raise funds in support of veterans and their families.

"The person who first introduced the poppy to Canada and the Commonwealth was Lieutenant-Colonel John McCrae of Guelph, a Canadian Medical Officer during the First World War," states a press release from the Royal Canadian Legion. "John McCrae penned the Poem 'In Flanders Fields' on a scrap of paper in May 1915 on the day following the death of a fellow soldier. Little did he know then that those 13 lines would become enshrined in the hearts and minds of all who would wear

Limiting freedoms for political expediency is a slippery slope

Imposing restrictions that prevent a group of people from accessing government services based on race, religion, gender or a minority designation is wrong. It's really that simple. Any attempt to dress up justification for imposing such restrictions must meet a very high bar to pass muster: Quebec's Bill 62 does not come close to meeting such a bar—it is an odious piece of political expediency whose taint will linger on all Canadians by association.

There are those that will tell you that "but everyone is doing it." They will point to the number of nations that have outlawed strict Middle Eastern dress such as the hijab or the niqab and cite concerns of national security to legitimize the imposition of dress codes for citizens. Hello! This is Canada, a place where scarfs and balaclavas are routine winter face coverings, not the couture of armed robbery suspects or terrorists. The legislation is aimed at a (very) small group of Muslim women who adopt a strict dress code as a matter of cultural modesty and it has nothing to do with security or secularism or any other of the bogus rationales being put forward to justify the racism (or culturalism—should one support the alt-right hair splitting non-sensical semantic defence) underlying this law.

Bill 62 has been touted by the Liberal government of Philip Couillard as a move to secularize the public service. They give it the typical mealy mouthed title of "An Act to foster adherence to State religious neutrality and, in particular, to provide a framework for requests for accommodations on religious grounds in certain bodies" that might be right at home in a dystopian tome by George Orwell.

This bill is a sop to the worst of reactionary tendencies to be found in an insular and somewhat paranoid community that has held back Quebec for generations in the name of cultural purity and protecting the motherland—shame on those Quebec politicians who are playing to those cards and shame on our prime minister for not immediately standing up and calling out Bill 62 and its supporters for what they are. They should not be allowed to hide behind their justifications and misdirection for the sake of political games.

There is no question that the majority of Canadians, even in this province, arguably our nations most culturally diverse and tolerant component, would support a similar ban here. The majority is wrong—it happens in a free and democratic society far more often than we would like to believe. But when it does, those who recognize that a government's actions are wrong must stand up and speak out. They must make every effort to bring their fellow citizens' to their senses and swim earnestly against the rising populist tide that threatens to engulf and subvert our rights and freedoms in the name of security or even secularism and the separation of church and state.

Politicians who play to the whims of populism play with fire, as the Liberal government of Quebec is learning as they attempt to massage this outrageous piece of legislation into something that might survive the scrutiny before the Canadian Supreme Court under the full glare of the Canadian Human Rights Act. Instead of co-opting the separatist reactionaries in Quebec, the Liberal backpedaling has given their opponents even more ammunition by which to pummel them. It was a no win political ploy from the outset.

Insisting that everyone hide their cultural differences to blend into a secularist society that reflects most closely the white middle class society that has formed the social elite in this country for generations should be an anathema to those whose dream of Canada is of a free and democratic society—and should particularly fly counter to the hopes and dreams of those Quebecois who must make their way in continent in which they are very much the minority.

Bill 62 is an act of legislative political cowardice that does no credit to Quebec or to Canada—and therein lies the greatest irony—by attacking a group of devout Muslim women who number in the dozens at most in the name of security, the Quebec government has placed a target on the backs of its citizens, a target that beckons to those very Muslim extremists the bill purports to combat.

Criticism of The Expositor's reporting on Tehkummah council

"It is a shame what is going on in our township."

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Expositor stands by its reporting of the situation in Tehkummah, and all other stories we cover across Manitoulin. The Expositor spoke with the individual involved in the incident at the Tehkummah municipal office and, while that individual disputed the accounts given to this newspaper by both the OPP and a town councillor, they declined to speak on the record.

To the Expositor:

As a concerned resident of Tehkummah I hate to see your paper follow the big city paper and only report one side of a story, therefore only half the truth to make it more sensational. I would certainly hope the owner, if he knew, would not condone this type of reporting.

In regards to a dispute between our town clerk and one of our residents, only on side of the situation was reported and therefore biased.

I'm sure your reporter should know better than this. It leaves me wondering what else is misrepresented.

It is a shame that some residents of Tehkummah believe your story to be true and other don't know the full story and therefore can't judge for themselves what is really going on in our township office.

It is a shame what is going on in our township. Because of two councillors they have not replaced a councillor who resigned. Every other municipality handles this by taking the next one in line. Nothing can get done and I can't figure out what their agenda is and why they are stalling.

Dorothy Cronk

A counterpoint to Liberal kudos

"It is understandable how people would believe the Liberal spin."

To the Expositor:

I read with great interest the letter published by Lyle Dewar 'A nod to Kathleen Wynne's Liberals (October 18, Page 4), and while I support Lyle and his right to give the Liberals credit, I wanted to share this space to give another opinion, as I tip my hat to Lyle and acknowledge him with respect.

It's easy to understand how many would think the Liberals have rallied to the cries of despair from Ontarians, particularly those of us who live in Northern Ontario in response to skyrocketing hydro bills. And while the 25 percent discount has been a welcome relief, what truly makes me lose sleep at night is how many people don't realize this reprieve has an expiry date. Moreover, and perhaps most disturbing, is the cost of this temporary Band-Aid.

It's understandable how people would believe the Liberal 'spin' and what is even more tragic is their need to believe it. We have either experienced the struggles of having to choose between putting food on the table or paying the hydro bill, or know someone who has. So when our government tells us they have heard us, and addressed the problem, the issue is so raw and real—we embrace the news and move forward.

The Fair Hydro Plan, which I spoke against at Queen's Park in front of the Justice committee, is not a solution to rising hydro costs. What the Liberals have done is apply some fancy and potentially illegal accounting principles. It is all complex and confusing but the long and short of it is...the 25 percent you are saving every month has to be paid back; and right now another company in the Ontario Energy file, called Ontario Power Generation, is accumulating that debt. That's right. Your discount, my discount, everybody's discount, is accumulating with interest in an account somewhere and to make matters worse, according to the Auditor General Bonnie Lysk, we will also be paying up to $4 billion more in interest.

A few years down the road when the piper comes looking to get paid, we are in serious trouble. When you hear the PCs and NDP warn of skyrocketing hydro costs that will be many times more expensive than we have today, they are not kidding.

Unfortunately, we have been living under a Liberal majority who has changed laws to enable them to sell Hydro One, create the Green Energy Act, award wind contracts to American companies that are contaminating people's wells, and most recently applied for funding to purchase "pay as you go" smart meters. Yes, pay as you go smart meters that in their own words will help them better control bad debt.

Yet the same Liberal government that Lyle wants to give a nod to is paying more to the CEO Mayo Schmidt in his salary and benefits of $4.5 million than they are allowing for the LEAP program for the entire province. And when the OEB denied Hydro One a $22 million dollar salary increase for their executives, Hydro One appealed the decision and is now taking the Ontario Energy Board to court.

Meanwhile food banks are struggling and children are going hungry. So, I will remind everyone that the 'Fair Hydro Plan' put forward with great fanfare and expense to reduce our hydro bills is not now nor has it ever been 'fair'.

Should you be afraid? Yes. We have seven months to ask the hard questions and vote for a party we think will be able to fix this mess. My only hope is that someone can. But no disrespect to Lyle, it will not be the Ontario Liberal party.

Sincerely,

Tanya Giles

Justice Vanessa Christie first judge to be sworn in at Gore Bay

by Tom Sasvari

GORE BAY—The swearing in of Justice Vanessa Christie as sitting judge in Gore Bay can definitely be termed historical for Manitoulin.

“I have the honour of welcoming Justice Vanessa Christie on behalf of the Manitoulin Bar Association,” stated James Wepler president of the Manitoulin Law Association, at the swearing in ceremony held last month. “Today’s swearing in is indeed historical and is a case of history repeating itself.”

You will have noticed that there are three stone buildings comprised in the court complex including the court house, which was built in 1890, a house for the judge on one side and on the other side the jail with cells and the jailer’s residence, which is now the Gore Bay Museum.”

“But there was no judge resident in the newly created District of Manitoulin until November 1899 when Justice Archibald McCallum was appointed the District Judge, to the great job of the people of Manitoulin. And a celebration of 200 souls marked the occasion in the community centre as we will today,” explained Mr. Wepler.

“Interestingly, Judge McCallum’s initial sittings were described as ‘unusually heavy,’ including seven cases on the docket but was noted that fortunately three were settled,” said Mr. Wepler. “I suspect Judge McCallum would have been most shocked at the docket our newly appointed justice will face, with hundreds of charges on a docket running many pages with dozens of accused.”

“By the mid-20th century, the District of Manitoulin had lost its resident judge in both the District and Magistrate Courts as we became a colony of Sudbury,” continued Mr. Wepler. “But today, after a 60 year wait, we can again welcome a resident judge to the District of Manitoulin, hence our joy.”

Justice Vanessa Christie at her new post at the Gore Bay courthouse.

“I pledge our support in facing the challenges ahead together, both bench and bar and ultimately the communities of the District of Manitoulin including the UCCM Justice program and the Wikwemikong Peacemaker Justice Program. We must all work together. So welcome to the challenge.”

The swearing in ceremony for the Honourable Justice Vanessa Christie as a judge of the Ontario Court of Justice took place on October 17, 2017 in Gore Bay. The Honourable Chief Justice Lise Maisonneuve and the Honourable Regional Senior Justice Patrick Boucher (presiding judge) presided at the ceremony.

Speakers at the swearing in ceremony including Stacey Haner on behalf of Yasir Naqvi, Attorney General for Ontario; Stephanie Baker on behalf of Paul B. Schabas, treasurer, the Law Society of Upper Canada; Mr. Wepler, Justice Melanie Dunn on behalf of Justice Stephen P. Harrison, President, Ontario Conference of Judges; and guest speaker Julianna Greenspan.

Justice Christie welcomed all those in attendance and said, “I am sure like many people who are appointed, when the phone rings and it is the Attorney General, the moment is surreal. I just sat there for a few moments wondering if at any moment he might call back and say, ‘whoops, I meant to call someone else.’”

“But then the chief calls, the regional senior calls, a whole bunch of your soon to be new colleagues call,” said Justice Christie. “And all of a sudden you start to realize, ‘wow, this might be happening.’ And that’s the moment when you start dancing like no one is watching. I had always heard the phrase and wondered when that moment might be. Well now I know.”

“I am absolutely thrilled to have been appointed to the Ontario Court of Justice,” stated Justice Christie. “I am equally thrilled to have been chosen to sit in this jurisdiction. I can tell you that this just feels right.”

She vowed, “I will work every day remembering what it was like to receive that call from the Attorney General, to be at that first judicial conference and to remembering what it is like to be here with you all right now.”

“I am looking forward to working with all of you, to working with the First Nation communities/organizations and leaders, to improving access to justice, to ensuring trials within a reasonable time, to ensuring that people who come before me leave feeling a sense of fairness and justice. The most important person in the courtroom is of course the party having their matter heard or accused person in a criminal matter.”

“I wish to thank everyone that has supported me in my life and in my career,” said Justice Christie. “I know that I would not have achieved the things I have without the love and support of all of you—my family, friends and colleagues.”

Justice Christie touched on her ‘Greenspan family.’ “On January 17, 2000 I walked into Greenspan Henein and White, as it was then named, for the first time as a second year criminal intensive student from Osgoode Hall Law School. The first day of that placement, I watched one of the partners conduct a preliminary hearing. But the second day I was asked to go over to Old City Hall to join Mr. Greenspan, as he was doing a sentencing hearing and that he would be asking me to wait with the client at the probation office after sentence was imposed to make sure that the paperwork was correct and to help make the client feel more comfortable as he waited.”

She said at the time the associate asked her if she knew what Eddie Greenspan looked like in order to find him. “Did I know what Eddie Greenspan looked like? I thought, ‘are you serious? Of course I know what Eddie Greenspan looks like.’ I had moved half way across the country determined to work for Eddie Greenspan. And off I went to meet the person who would become my mentor throughout my entire career as a criminal defence lawyer until his passing in December 2014. Having him in my life made me the lawyer that I became and the judge I will become.”

“Of course, having Eddie in my life brought with it many other important people that are as family to me now. The entire Greenspan family—I have always felt like an adopted member. Julianna (his daughter) and I continued as partners in the firm after losing Eddie, but this partnership has always been so much more than a professional one. And of course, the many people that I worked with at the firm, many of you are here with me today and are cherished friends.”

“My parents: As far as I am concerned, I had the best parents anyone can have. Being parents to Allen and I, and then later, being grandparents to my niece, Aliyah, this was the entire focus of their lives,” continued Justice Christie. “Ever since I was first called to the bar, my parents, who lived in New Brunswick, would come to Ontario on vacation and sit in court watching me appear. When I was articling, they would come just to watch me do a set date and were so proud when I asked for the matter to return on a certain date and that date was set by the court. You would think I did something miraculous. They were so delighted. After I was called, they would come to watch trials, sitting proudly in the body of the court. After my father passed away in 2007, my mother would come more often, actually planning her trips around trials I had scheduled. As I said earlier, I also lost my mother in 2014, just a few days before Eddie passed away.”

“There is no question that I am the person I am today because of the love and support of my parents,” stated Justice Christie.

“So that brings me to Aubrey, my best friend,” said Justice Christie. “Aubrey and I both grew up in the small town of St. Stephen, New Brunswick. We have been dating since we were ‘old enough to date,’” she said, using air quotations.

“Aubrey does air quotes a lot so I did that for him! One day, I tell him, ‘Aubrey, we’re moving to Fredericton so I can attend the University of New Brunswick for my undergraduate degree.’ Off we went,” said Justice Christie. “Then, toward the end of that, I say to Aubrey, ‘I really want to attend Osgoode Hall Law School in Toronto.’ This time he was a little more reluctant, but off we went. I never really warned him that the Toronto thing would take up the next 19 years of our lives. I left that part out. But then, when I got that call from the Attorney General and I called Aubrey and said we are moving to Manitoulin Island, Aubrey said ‘okay, let’s get out of here.’”

“Aubrey is a constant support in my life—through good times and bad. This is one of those good times and here he is right by my side,” said Justice Christie. “Thank you all for being a part of my life and part of this extraordinary day.”

Electronic medical records Go Live in Aundeck Omni Kaning

by Michael Erskine

AUNDECK OMNI KANING—The excitement was electric in the meeting room at Mnaamodzawin Health Services as a symbolic switch was thrown to celebrate the Go Live launch of the community’s Giiwednong Health Link (GHL) electronic medical records system.

The Go Live launch began with a cleansing ceremony and drum song performed by Craig Abotossaway, who related the story of the Creator sending the slow and steady but powerful M’Kwa (the bear spirit) out across the land to ensure that everything was in place for the arrival of mankind. Although he took much longer to complete the task, M’Kwa succeeded where a host of other animals had failed.

Acting Mnaamodzawin Health Services Chair Kevin Mossip noted that the electronic medical records system provided by GHL will allow for “overall better service to (the) First Nations people we serve” and the hope that further electronic record integration with more First Nations partners will happen in the future.

Giiwednong Health Link Executive Director Michael McGregor opened the official Go Live ceremony. “I am very pleased to be here today to celebrate this very important milestone with you,” he said. “First, I wish to extend my congratulations to all the First Nations leaders, chiefs and health directors for having the vision way back, when electronic medical records (EMRs) in our communities was simply an idea. Also, for having the commitment and persistence to work together with GHL through the many challenges, to jump over and through the many hurdles and hoops, to get to the point where we find ourselves today, celebrating the implementation of EMR systems in Mnaamodzawin and the Mnaamodzawin First Nation communities. It’s certainly been a long time coming. Finally, it’s here.”

“While I am a relative newcomer to GHL and the EMR initiative, I understand that many of you have been either directly or indirectly involved in the GHL project for a long time,” he continued. “It is this type of involvement, whether it be as decision maker/leader for your community, manager/planner in your health centre, or community member/supporter, that has made this day possible. The results of your patience and dedication are evidenced here today...miigwetch.”

Mr. McGregor went on to note that while EMRs have been successfully implemented in the Mnaamodzawin communities, “the real work for your respective health care teams will begin. With your new EMR tools in place, your health care teams will be better able to track accurate, real time health information, a big first step towards more effectively serving your respective community’s health care needs.”

He noted that “this Go Live event marks a total of 10 First Nations Health Centres that now have EMRs in place. Prior to this consolidated EMR implementation with MHS and the MHS communities over the past seven months, GHL has completed EMR implementations in five other First Nation health centres. These have been completed in Wikwemkoong, Serpent River, M’Chigeeng, Atikameksheng and Sagamok First Nations, which now brings the total EMR implementations to 10 First Nation Health Centres.”

Mr. McGregor went on to acknowledge the ongoing support from a couple of GHL’s key partners, notably: “the 14 First Nation communities on Manitoulin and the North Shore; Health Canada

(who has provided funding to GHL to undertake this very important work); and Telus Health who has steadfastly worked alongside GHL to implement the Practice Solutions Suite (PS Suite EMR) in our communities.”

But the work has just begun, he said. “EMR integrations/data sharing with our partners such as the Family Health Teams; aboriginal health access centres, including Noojmowin Teg Health Centre (which is affiliated with the Manitoulin First Nations) and N’Mni-noeyaa Community Health Access Centre (which is affiliated with Mamaweswen, The North Shore Tribal Council); Better Reporting, for both federal and provincial health/funding partners; and the communities’ own First Nation health care teams (will work) to generate and use accurate real-time health information to better serve our communities health care needs.”

Digital/e-health initiatives continue to grow, he noted. “Opportunities to better serve First Nation patients in our own First Nations communities abound through things like better electronic client engagement to enable things like online/self service appointment bookings and automated appointment reminders; improved client/patient immunization monitoring; healthcare, such via their personally owned devices; e-referrals, etc.”

But that “ultimately, we in the healthcare sector always need to remember to keep one eye on the end goal of doing what is required to improve the health and well-being of our community members.”

Cameron Bales, PS Suite Trainer with Telus Health, expressed how well the integration team had worked together to make the Go Live launch a seamless success and noted that the system has a great number of links already, including the Northeast Family Health Team. “We are all on the same page electronically,” he said. “Telus Health is committed to ongoing improvement.”

Following the presentation of gifts to members of the team, a luncheon feast concluded the ceremonies.

Northeast Town Council Notes

Asset management

Council carried a motion directing staff to apply for a grant opportunity from the Federation of Canadian Municipalities' Municipal Asset Management Program for the Northeast Town to hire an individual to develop the town's Asset Management Program. Staff noted that the municipality's intern has been working on the plan, but that they would like to create a full-time position for her to continue to develop the plan once her current position with the municipality ends.

Prior to the motion being moved by Councillor Michael Erskine, seconded by Councillor Marcel Gauthier and carried by council, CAO Dave Williamson explained that the funding would cover the majority of the position while the remaining funds of $8,840 would come from the 2018 budget.

Wildlife damage

Council reviewed a resolution from the Township of Oro Medonto concerning Ontario's Wildlife Damage Compensation Program (OWDCP).

The resolution calls on the province to "expand the OWDCP to include evidence of partial carcasses" to allow eligible producers to process legitimate claims and rely more heavily on the opinions of the municipal investigator, as they are experienced, familiar and knowledgeable with the municipality's produces, as they continue to process genuine and valid applications."

Councillors Michael Erskine and Paul Skippen suggested that the Northeast Town council support the resolution and forward it to the premier and Ministry of Agriculture, Food and Rural Affairs.

Council carried a motion to support the resolution and forward it on to the suggested parties.

Municipal training

The Township of Tehkummah contacted the Northeast Town asking for the municipality's support in petitioning the Association of Municipal Managers, Clerks and Treasurers of Ontario (AMCTO) to host training sessions on Manitoulin Island.

"The training sessions provided by AMCTO are timely and well worth attending," states the letter from Tehkummah to the Northeast Town. "Although it would be beneficial to have more than one staff member or council member attend training sessions, it is not affordable to send anyone."

Tehkummah made a resolution: "That the AMCTO be petitioned to host training sessions on Manitoulin Island so that more staff and council members of the municipalities in the district can attend these sessions; and that this resolution be circulated to Manitoulin Island municipalities for their support."

The Northeast Town carried a motion to support Tehkummah's resolution.

Land exchange

Steve Rolston made a deputation to council on behalf of Dr. John Skilling. He explained that Dr. Skilling is proposing a land exchange with the municipality. In exchange for granting him ownership of Macaulay Street (approximately 1.9 acres), Dr. Skilling will donate Lot 1, North Side Campbell Street (five acres) to the municipality.

The five acres of land that Dr. Skilling is proposing to exchange with the municipality is a portion of the Sheguiandah historical site.

Mr. Rolston said that if the town was to go forward with the exchange, Mr. Rolston would pay for all legal fees the municipality incurs in transferring the title of both properties.

Dr. Pat Julig, who has worked on the archeological site, spoke to council about the historical importance of the property and how it would make access to the rest of the historical site easier in the future if the town was to develop a trail.

Town Mayor Al MacNevin explained that council's policy is not to make decisions on issues presented to council through deputation until its next scheduled meeting (Tuesday, November 7).

Fire department

Northeast Town Fire Chief Duane Deschamps presented the October department report to council. He listed that there were eight calls for service since the last report including: September 24, structure fire at 47 Worthington Street in Little Current; September 27, a sailboat collided with the swing bridge; September 30, a report of smoke in Sheguiandah; October 1, a motor vehicle collision on Highway 540 west of Aundeck Omni Kaning; October 6, an alarm call at 120 Harbour View Road, Manitoulin Transport; October 9, a report of a structure fire on Highway 6 that ended up being a burn barrel; October 11, a vehicle accident involving a cement truck rollover at the corner of Highway 540 and Bidwell Road; and October 16, a house fire on Bidwell Road.

He noted that there had been 40 calls for service to date and that all the fire department's apparatus and equipment was in good working order.

Community services

Community Services Manager Reid Taylor reviewed the October report with council. He said that the arena ice is being well used and that staff are completing regular maintenance.

"Little Current Howland Minor Hockey starts on October 23, while the public skating schedule starts on October 22," said Mr. Taylor. "The Manitoulin Panthers are having an alumni game on November 10."

He also noted that Spider Bay Marina is closed for the season, as is the Port of Little Current.

"Parks are being inspected regularly and the washrooms are closed and will be winterized shortly," said Mr. Taylor. "Town docks will be moved by month's end, weather permitting."

He added that the Robinson Street trees have arrived (to replace the ones that were removed).

Public works noted that the roadside brushing has started. He also noted that operations were going well at the landfill and that fence has been put up around the active area of the cell.

Regular maintenance and repairs were being done on public works equipment as requested and work has started on the expansion of the Cup and Saucer parking lot.

Building controls

The October building controls report stated that there were a total of 56 permits issued to date this year. It also noted that the total construction to date is $5,141,215 with a total building permit revenue of $64,900.29.

Cat program

Council received a letter from Bleu Fisher of Rainbow Rescue reporting on the first year of the partnership pilot project between her organization and the municipality.

"I was given $1,500 for a pilot program for stray cats in the area," she wrote. "It has been a huge success. I was able to trap 14 strays and get all 14 spayed/neutered, shots, dewormed, de-flea and some FIV tested."

"Along with these 14 strays, there were over 60 kitten litters which were also trapped and sent to Pet Save Sudbury," Ms. Fisher continued. "I believe this program has stopped the population of strays by the thousands. I am requesting that the town contribute another $1,500 so I can continue the work."

Staff said that the item had been added to the 2018 budget donation line discussions.

Manitoulin Sporting Life

The annual, elementary Flag Football Championships were hosted on a perfect, football-weather day at Assiginack Public School last Thursday. A record, ten teams from five schools, had an amazing crisp and sunny day to show their stuff on the grid-iron. With this many teams, there were two divisions fighting for the two golden football trophies up for grabs. In the "A" category, Gore Bay's C. C. McLean Colts ran wild with three wins and one tie. The tie was with Little Current, who also had the exact same record. However, the first place tie was broken by C. C. McLean having a +69 point differential compared to LCPS's +36.

Kudos to the Colts featuring: Anthony Dearing, Jordan Bailey, Trent Bell, Nate Merrylees-Cooper, Damien Merrylees, Abby Witty, Jonathan Deremo and Coach, Mr. Dan Smith. In the "B" pool the C.M.P.S. Eagles put together four consecutive wins to be able to hoist the golden football. They came up against up an equally tough, Wasse Abin Pontic squad in their final game who gave them their closest contest however, Central Manitoulin edged them by just two points. The Mindemoya "B" team consisted of Delaney Bridgeman, Carter Moggy, Aiden McCarthy, Zoe Redmond, Ethan Cooper, Zach Gibbons, Rhys Allison, Lindsay Shepherd, Bay Migwans, Hayden Young and Coach, Ellen Ferguson. Thanks to host and organizer from Assiginack Jeremy Mailloux and his army of volunteers. Good job team!

Panther Points!

The Atom Panthers are coming of a recent one and one home record at the NEMI Complex. Two weekends ago the well-seasoned, of generally 9-10 year old set beat the visiting Elliot Lake Wildcats handily 7 - 2. However this past weekend the Copper Cliff minor atom squad doubled up on the local side 6 - 3. The team will suit up against the Sudbury Minor Atom Wolves this Sunday at 4:00 PM, home at the NEMI Centre.

Rapids' sniper still leads league!

Despite Gregory Trudeau-Paquet's French River Rapids' dropping from first place in the N.O.J.H.L.'s (Northern Ontario Junior Hockey Association) eastern division to fifth of the six teams, the youngster has been able to still stand atop the league's scoring statistics! The Rapids, after their meteoric rise in NOJHL and national rankings have dropped to ninth of the N.O.J.H.L.'s twelve team's overall standings. Being on the lower side on the score-sheet has not seemed to dampen Trudeau-Paquet's production. Greg, still tops the Points and Goals leader boards with an impressive 18 goals, 13 assists, equaling 31 points in only 21 games! Keep up the hard work, Greg.

Volleyball star shows in post-secondary court

Kudos to Wiikwemkoong's Winona Ominika (mother, Vanessa), on being named to Sir Sanford Fleming's College Varsity Volleyball Team. Winona is a hardworking athlete who excels at multiple sports. Keep working hard, Winona.

Remembrance Day activity to make memories

With Halloween advertising starting to dissipate around us, how about an event supporting Remembrance Day?! On Sunday, November 12th why not participate in the Run to Remember at College Boareal, just off Lassalle Boulevard in Sudbury? The action starts at 9 AM along the institution's nature trails with distances for everyone at one, three and six, km lengths of running and walking courses. The Running Room event asks for $25 for adults, $15 for students and $10 for kids under seven. For more information you can email: Emilie.Lacroix@collegeboreal.ca or check out the Running Room page at: <https://www.events.runningroom.com/site/?raceId=14474>.

Assiginack man victim of a canine house invasion

by Michael Erskine

ASSIGINACK—It was a dark and stormy night on September 22 when Wilfred Gilliard heard a ratchet out his back door. Little did he realize that he was about to experience an animal home invasion that would leave him bleeding and traumatized.

"I was sitting at my computer and my wife was downstairs," he said. "I heard a noise on the deck around 8:30 (pm)."

He went to investigate the noises and discovered that the screen door on his gazebo was damaged. "I wondered to myself, 'now what did that?' and looked down to see a black blob," he said. "It looked like a bear, but then I realized it was a dog. I opened the patio door about three to four inches and he rushed in."

The dog managed to squirm his nose in between the doorframe and the door. "It was about the size of a border collie," he said. "It bit my elbow."

Startled, Mr. Gilliard fell back and the now quite unwelcome visitor rushed into the kitchen. "There was a lot of blood," said the 79-year-old Mr. Gilliard, who has been dealing with a number of serious health issues. "I am on blood thinners and not in the best shape," he explained.

"The dog took over the kitchen," he said. "I was trying to use my commanding voice to tell it to 'go lie down'." But the dog was not having any of it. "It

Wilfred Gilliard suffered this vicious dog bite at the hands of a dog that had 'broken into' his Assiginack home last month.

INSET: A closeup of the bloody wound.

just kept walking around the kitchen."

The experience was already pretty traumatic for all involved. "My wife was just about hysterical," recalled Mr. Gilliard.

While Mr. Gilliard tried to find a phone number for his nearest neighbour the dog went downstairs. "I finally contacted a neighbour," he said. "My neighbour lives about a mile down the road and apparently he knew the dog. He tried to get a rope on it and the dog was nipping at him."

It seems the dog belonged to a neighbour who lives about a quarter-mile from Mr. Gilliard. "I think they have about three dogs."

Once the dog was secured and removed from the house by his neighbour (not the dog owner), the stricken elder was taken to the hospital. "I haven't had a tetanus shot in years," he said. "By then things had started to swell."

In the aftermath of the attack, Mr. Gilliard discovered some interesting things about dealing with a dog attack. "My wife called the dog catcher that same night, but he didn't get back to her until the day after," he said, but by then it seemed there was nothing to be done on that front.

"We didn't know what to do," he said.

The neighbour told them that he was in contact with the dog's owner. "The owner called him, she was crying and concerned about her dog."

"I let it go," said Mr. Gilliard, "but Sunday morning I called the police and they came over. We wanted to know what our rights were."

The Gilliards were wondering who would deal with the damage that had been caused to their property.

The owner of the dog came over, but Mr. Gilliard said that he wasn't up to dealing with her. "I told my wife not to let her into the house," he said. "My wife asked her why she didn't bother calling us. All we got was an 'I'm sorry'."

Mr. Gilliard said that he was told he had about a 30-day period in which to lay charges. "But what really bothers me is that there was no offer to repair the damage," he said. "People have to realize that even though they think their dogs are wonderful, they can't just let them run free."

As of press time Monday, Mr. Gilliard had not received any offer of compensation for the damage to his property from the dog owner, nor has he pressed charges, yet. "It's not a route I really want to go down," he said. "But what other options are there?"

Elena Hovingh

Elena Hovingh is a dedicated grade 11 MSS athlete who has earned plenty of respect from her many teammates and coaches. She loves to read, relax outside, and hang out with her friends.

In her elementary years at Assiginack Public School, Elena participated in volleyball, basketball, three-pitch, X-country, track & field, flag football, and soccer. Outside of school, Elena played hockey with the Manitowaning Wolves for 4 years, as defense.

When she reached high school, Elena had every intention to continue playing sports. In grade 9 she played volleyball, in the key position of setter. She also played basketball in the guard position. In grade 10 Elena played the same sports and the same positions, demonstrating her determination to master these skills. This year Elena is looking forward to volleyball tryouts, while she waits for her grade 12 basketball season to come around.

Elena has played many sports over the years, but her favourite sports are volleyball and basketball because she enjoys getting to play on a team and building skills as a team, all the while winning together.

Accounting for her hard work, Elena enjoys her time at school, especially in math class. Her favourite things about school include learning about the world, getting to see her friends, and preparing for life after high school. Elena plans on attending university when she graduates and is inspired by her older sister, Laura. ## Contest seeks to connect students with veterans' stories

by Michael Erskine

WIIKWEMKOONG—Canadian veterans sacrificed a lot when they enlisted in Canada's military services to fight for their country, but none more so than Anishinaabe volunteers. Many young Anishinaabe do not know about those sacrifices, but a Wiikwemkoong woman came up with an innovative way to bridge that knowledge gap.

Kathleen Eshkibok decided to put up her own money to establish 'Veterans' Story,' a collage, visual arts and essay contest and leveraged her own contribution with funds from Wiikwemkoong's chief and council and the Little Current Royal Canadian Legion Branch 177.

"We want students to tell us the importance of knowing your history and the proud choices our veterans have made in current and past conflicts," said Ms. Eshkibok when she dropped by The Expositor offices in Little Current last week.

"Would you give up your citizenship to go fight for your country?" she asked. Yet this is exactly the choice that faced the Anishinaabek when they stepped forward to enlist. "You were enfranchised (given citizenship and the right to vote in Canadian elections, most First Nations residents did not have that right prior to the 1960s) and if you lived off of the reserve for four years you were removed from the band list."

In her own experience, Ms. Eshkibok recalled her father, Henry Eshkibok, settling in the Sault Ste. Marie area following the war. He selected a piece of land that he liked, with a nice secluded place to build a house, but soon learned that a petition was being circulated in the neighbourhood to disallow him settling there.

"My father was a very proud and brave man," she recalled. He eventually did build his home, but rather than tucking it away out of sight, he built it front and centre so that the community would see him there every day. "He was a tough guy," she laughed. "I want our youth to stand proud and gather the information, stories of the people in their community who gave up so much to defend the land."

There are two categories in the contest, a collage/visual arts or mixed media category with a top prize of $300 for first place and a $100 second place; and an essay contest with the same prize structure. The contest is open to high school-aged youth and the deadline for submission is November 7. Winners will be announced on November 10 at the Wiikwemkoong High School Remembrance Day ceremonies.

Ms. Eshkibok stresses that she is not alone in creating Veterans' Story. "Samantha Cooper has helped me a lot and Natalie Neganegijig at the Youth Centre did the poster."

Mustang girls' hockey team named for 2017-2018 season

by Robin Burrige

MANITOULIN—Tryouts have now taken place for the boys and girls Manitoulin Secondary School Mustang hockey teams and the season is quickly approaching.

Mustangs girls' manager Lisa Addison said 23 girls tried out for the team this year, a record number.

"There are many talented players and it was a tough decision," said Ms. Addison. "Thank you to all that have tried out. We are looking forward to a great season of hockey."

The team includes: Brooke Addison, Tess Bellmore, Sophie Bondi, Gabby Corbiere, Savanna Corbiere, Alayna Cranston, Maggie Eadie, Ashlyn Hare, Harmony Kaiser-Fox, Randi-Lyn Lovelace, Maddy Nevin, Mickie Noble, Hailey Prior-McGillis, Lyric Peltier, Avery Sheppard, Faith Taylor, Beth Wesno, Hannah Woestenek and Bailey Yaschuck-Middaugh.

Other members of the coaching staff include Coach Mike Meeker and Assistant Manager Ina Wesno.

The Mustang girls have their first home game on Thursday, November 9 at the M'Chigeeng arena at 5 pm against L'Horizon.

The roster for the boys' team isn't finalized as Coach Steve Doane said he is still looking at adding players.

Practices have begun, but 10 of the players are also on the volleyball team and the exhibition hockey games conflict with volleyball events so the team will be opting out of the exhibition schedule.

The team is to be finalized this week with their first game taking place at the Northeast Town Recreation Centre on Thursday, November 9 at 4 pm against St. Charles.

There was plenty of meeting and greeting to do too. The Wiikwemkoong Board of Education has more than 700 students and staff under its many roofs.

“I think it is very important to get to know the staff, students and community members that we serve,” she said. Building solid relationships with the community is critical to effectively fulfilling her role, she said. People need to be able to put a face to the voice and feel comfortable bringing forward any issues they may face in furthering their education at every level.

Ms. Zoccole is flying anything but blind as she assumes her new role, especially for the first 100 days. “When I was applying for the job they wanted to see a 100-day plan,” she said. In addition to a strategic plan, there are a host of details that she is absorbing, so a lot of change isn’t in the works right away.

In fact, Ms. Zoccole said that she was very impressed with the work that has already been completed by her predecessor in her role. “I really appreciate the work that has gone on before,” she said. “I am looking forward to continuing on that work.”

Part of recognizing the important legacy of that work would take place later that evening, as the community was celebrating the 20th anniversary of the Wiikemkoong High School.

Dr. James Chau is a Care of the Elderly Physician who works with the North East Specialized Geriatric Centre in Sudbury. He is a regular user of eConsult, both as a requester and as a respondent to inquiries himself as a specialist.

“Using eConsult reduces travel and waiting times for a specialist opinion, which traditionally has been a real challenge for individuals living in the more rural areas of Northeastern Ontario,” said Dr. Chau. “Specifically for frail elderly patients, it can save patients and their caregivers from having to attend additional appointments or consultations if clinical questions can be addressed via an eConsult.”

More than 100 specialties are accessible through eConsult. Common specialties requested by North East LHIN physicians include: obstetrics, endocrinology and pediatrics. The average time for an eConsult request is just over two days, and the turnaround time can also be as little as four hours.

Dr. Chau is impressed with how the platform has been embraced by healthcare professionals across the region. “I’ve found it encouraging and impressive to see the number of North East LHIN specialists who are engaged with the eConsult system and are readily sharing their expertise with colleagues across the province,” said Dr. Chau.

At the North East LHIN, the use of enabling technologies is a priority area. Currently, the LHIN is working with 24 hospitals in the region on the “ONE” project. This project will allow for a one patient, one record approach and for the development evidence-based standards of care for northern patients.

Wiikwemkoong chef makes good with Toronto's Ku-Kum Kitchen

by Peter Carter
 TORONTO—"This tastes just like cedar!" I said to my wife Helena after having a sip of the complimentary "cedar tea" that Ku-Kum Kitchen Manager Jeff Buensuceso had just placed in front of us. "Except I'm not sure I've ever actually eaten cedar before. At least not on purpose."

Helena suggested that the aroma of food affects its taste and started recalling some of the taste-bud stuff she learned when she was studying science at the University of Toronto. And as she talked, I thought, "This is fantastic. This is the kind of conversation people have on dates!"

More than 30 years earlier, when I worked at The Expositor and Helena at the Sudbury Algoma Hospital, we dated and dined at various eateries around Manitoulin. Now, three kids, two careers and one grandson later, we were on a date again, at Toronto's most-talked-about new eatery, Ku-Kum—Indigenous Kitchen, co-owned and operated by Wiikwemkoong's own Joseph Shawana, 35.

Mr. Shawana, father of a two-year-old son named Hawk and husband of Vanessa Hernandez-Palma, left the Island after graduating from MSS, knowing he longed for a career in the food business. He inherited his culinary passion from his mom and grandmother, he says, and started as a dishwasher at the old Schooners Restaurant in Manitowaning, where his mom was a chef.

Various kitchen jobs at golf courses and restaurants around the north preceded his 2006 move to Toronto, where he started up the food chain, with positions at such tony spots as Pusateri's and Windsor Arms. And in just over 10 years, he rose to where he has this place of his own, in one of the city's must upscale and fashionable neighbourhoods around Mt. Pleasant and Eglinton.

"How," I asked, "did you move up so quickly?"

"I worked," he said with a grin. "I worked really hard."

Ku-Kum opened in June to extremely favourable reviews. Several other Indigenous restaurants have graced the Toronto food scene, but Mr. Shawana's haute-cuisine atmosphere, with its delicately arranged portions and painfully meticulous preparation, set a new standard. A Toronto Life review titled 'To Bannock and Beyond' read: "Shawana's genius is to seamlessly weave his favourite Indigenous ingredients and recipes together with a classic French approach."

So he got off to a good start. It gets better.

On October 2, the online version of Time Magazine's sister publication Food&Wine posted a glowing review of Ku-Kum and mentioned that one of the Indigenous-based menu items was seal meat.

Well now. A California-based animal-rights organization called Care2 took offence and within days had almost Wiikwemkoong's Joe Shawana at his Ku-Kum Indigenous Kitchen in Toronto. Mr. Shawana has gained much notoriety for his unique menu, which includes seal.

The controversial seal dish, which our reporter tried and enjoyed.

Aleesha Toulouse of Sagamok was among many other diners at Ku-Kum during The Expositor's visit.

7,000 anti-Ku-Kum signatures from places as far flung as Croatia, Belgium and South Australia on an anti-seal-meat petition.

That was followed by an anti-petition petition and news coverage across the planet.

menu.

"Business was good before that, but since the petition? It's been terrific" Mr. Shawana says.

I'm not even going to attempt to describe what it's like to eat at Ku-Kum. I just suggest you try it yourself next time you're in Toronto.

However, I will share Toronto Life's take on what the seal tartare is like: "The seal meat was a forbidding midnight black, wet and alien, topped with the quivering yolk of a raw quail egg. It tasted of brine and iron, bringing to mind ice floes, waves raising a mineral foam on rocky shores, and a diet of cod and krill. Paul McCartney won't be pleased to hear I liked it."

I liked it, too. Our seal was served with a garnish of salmon roe, as an appetizer, along with smoked trout and beet-and-maple-something smoked salmon. Plus bannock that Mr. Shawana says is based on his grandmother's recipe albeit with a shot of maple syrup.

Not only did Helena and I have a delicious supper, we shared an historic moment. The day of our visit, Ku-Kum took its first delivery of Manitoulin beer from Manitoulin Brewing Co. I had a Cup-and Saucer English Ale and Helena enjoyed her Bridal Veil Pale Ale.

Manitoulin students fundraise for hurricane victims

'From Our Island to Your Island' to help former MSS student

by Robin Burridge

MANITOULIN—Manitoulin Secondary School (MSS) civics students are fundraising to help victims of Hurricane Harvey and Irma which devastated Florida and parts of the USA this year.

"I have been to Marco Island (population 16,413) in Florida many times with my family and as we were following the path of the hurricane (Harvey) I showed my class photos of our time there," shared MSS civics teacher Lisa Addison. "After the hurricane hit, we were looking at photos of the destruction there and across the US and the kids were flabbergasted."

Ms. Addison said her civics students also read the news about hurricane Irma and had class discussions about what it was like for the people affected by the two hurricanes.

"The students talked about people they knew in Florida and started discussing ways to help," said Ms. Addison. "I also spoke to them about Nathan Wong, a former MSS student, who lost his family's home and possessions due to Hurricane Irma in the British Virgin Islands (BVI)."

Ms. Addison's two civics classes decided that they wanted to do something to help Mr. Wong and victims on Marco Island and came up with the fundraising idea 'From Our Island to Your Island.'

"The students set a goal to fundraise $1,000 to help Mr. Wong and his family," shared Ms. Addison. "If they raise over $1,000, a second victim will be selected, one from Marco Island. We will be reaching out to the Marco Eagle, the local newspaper, for a recommended individual or family in need."

The MSS students approached Island businesses they work for or that are owned by their family and asked permission to place donation cans at their front desk or cash counter.

"Donation cans are located at BJ's and Addison's, Bare Naked Beauty, Ralf Island Truck Parts, Anchor Inn Hotel, Manitoulin Transport, Little Current Guardian Pharmacy and Central Pharmacy in Gore Bay," Ms. Addison explained. "They will be collected at the end of November."

Students also hosted a bake sale at MSS recently and will be making and collecting goods to sell at the MSS Christmas Shopping Spree on Saturday, November 18.

"Through this project the students are learning that even a smallish island in Northern Ontario can still have a big impact on someone else in the world," concluded Ms. Addison.

Nathan Wong, formerly of Spring Bay, resides on Tortola, BVI with his partner and two young children. The family survived Hurricane Irma, huddled in a neighbour's basement but lost their home and all their possessions.

If you would like to make a donation to the MSS students' fundraising efforts, please contact Ms. Addison at 705-368-7000, ext. 6723.

Students held a bake sale recently to help raise money 'From Our Island to Your Island.'

Manitoulin Health Centre Notes

CEO report

The Manitoulin Health Centre (MHC) September board meeting started with MHC CEO Derek Graham presenting his report.

Mr. Graham highlighted that the Community Care Access Centre (CCAC) has announced that they will hire and fund a nurse practitioner position, to be employed by them, in a home care capacity focusing on palliative care. He noted the possible benefits and challenges associated with the new concept and that MHC will be examining it.

His report also spoke about accreditation work that has been developing across MHC in preparation for June 2018's accreditation visit.

"Through the leadership of the director of clinical innovation and partnerships, as the delegated lead for the file, a comprehensive assessment has been performed to help guide the managers through the highest priority safety and quality related standards," he informed the board.

Mr. Graham spoke to the board about how many of the province's hospitals experienced a summer surge in patient volumes, particularly in higher growth communities.

"This is troublesome, and may indicate that the capacity within the system is not aligned to growing access needs," he said. "Typically hospitals experience volume surges in the winter months and so to see this pattern over the summer is very unusual. As a result, the Ontario Hospital Association (OHA) has ramped up messaging publically around the need for continuing to infuse revenue to hospitals, including a call for in-year base increases."

"There were delays over the summer in renovating the palliative hospice rooms at both sites," explained Mr. Graham. "The delays have resulted in a push back of the go-live projected date to end of October. The efforts have now been revitalized and refocused."

As well, the report noted that former MHC employee Petra Wall has been acclaimed as the newest NE-LHIN board member.

Nursing report

MHC Interim Chief Nursing Officer Laurie Landry introduced herself to the board and reviewed her September report.

She discussed how the installation of the new cardiac telemetry equipment was completed over the summer and that the units are now functioning, serving patient needs at both sites.

"The defibrillators were delayed due to a supply issue and are being implemented next week," she said.

Ms. Landry said that a new mental health community resource referral form has been implemented, "to ensure our mental health clients are being referred to an appropriate community agency upon discharge from care at MHC."

"We worked with our home care partners to make revisions to the home care referral form to allow for more detailed information to be provided and make it easier to identify which agency it should be sent to," she added. "A focus over the summer months on improving pharmacy safe practices in relation to MHC's latest on-site pharmacy accreditation visit has resulted in a number of key process changes being implemented."

Ms. Landry said that the pharmacy area at the Little Current site has moved into a newly renovated area and a new packaging instrument has been installed and is operational.

"A part-time nurse educator has been hired for MHC to help impart critical skills training for nurses," Ms. Landry explained to the board. "A former nurse manager was selected, Vicky Joncas, to fulfill the role. The focus will be on training related to critical processes to help improve staff knowledge and comfort in the performance of these identified tasks."

Financial and corporate support services

"After five months of operation in our 2017-2018 fiscal year, MHC has a surplus from hospital operations of $163,000 with an overall surplus, including other revenues and expenses of approximately $165,000," said MHC VP of Corporate Support Services and CFO Lynn Foster. "MHC's investment portfolio has been managed by Beutel Goodman since January 2006. Its assets under management, at book value, equals $5,202,877 with a fair market value of $5,904,319. The asset mix is currently 51 percent fixed income and 49 percent equity, which is consistent with the board established investment policy."

She noted that the capital budgeting process for 2017-2018 will soon be complete. Once completed, the final approved list will come forward to the board.

"Subsequent to the CEO's email shared with the board in June, MHC has hired its own two full-time technology solution specialists," Ms. Foster explained. "An offsite planning session was held in early September which led to MHC's IT operations plan. This plan has been shared with our three FHT partners and site visits to each FHT have also been conducted."

MHC Chief of Staff Dr. Stephen Cooper spoke of Dr. Anne McDonald, who joined

The teams also rotated through brainstorming and project development sessions. Each team has worked to identify a problem with the sourcing, delivery, use, or disposal of water by humans and is developing an innovative solution to their problem. Issues teams identified ranged from agricultural challenges to household challenges.

There are currently four FLL teams on Manitoulin Island. One team from the Grade 7/8 class at CMPS, and is mentored by Margit Alberti. Two teams run out of Assiginack Township and Library, and are mentored by Mark Gibeault, Margit Alberti and Chris Mara. The fourth team is mentored by Catherine Harley and Adrian Ramperad at the Pontiac School in Wikwemikong.

the Little Current Medical Associates and has started her practice.

"She will be on maternity leave early in 2018," he said. "The Little Current group is excited to have her join the practice. She is planning on replacing Dr. Barss at the Centennial Manor so he can focus on OBS."

Dr. Cooper said the Northern Ontario School of Medicine (NOSM) Comprehensive Clinical Clerk (CCC) students started their eight-month rotation at the beginning of September. He explained that they started in Gore Bay and will then move to Mindemoya and finish in Little Current.

"The local education group had its first teaching session, primarily focused on curriculum changes for NOSM students doing their first clinical rural rotations (four week sessions called 108 and 110)," explained Dr. Cooper. "Dr. Kilbertus was active in helping improve the curriculum for the second year students."

medical advisory committee. The motions included: granting active privileges to Dr. Anne McDonald; courtesy privileges to Dr. David Cowan; granting locum privileges to Dr. Annelise Miller; Dr. Ji Zhou and Dr. Neil Dattani; and granting courtesy privileges to Dr. Dinkar Shukla.

Board meeting dates

The MHC board approved the following meeting dates: November 23 in Little Current; January 25 in Mindemoya; March 22 in Little Current; May 24 in Mindemoya; and June 28 in Little Current.

The board carried four motions, recommended by the Soup is one of my favourites to make. It makes you feel warm all-over on a cold, wet day, and it is all you really need. You can make hearty soups which are great for a meal when you are in a hurry and then have lots left over for lunch and the freezer. One of my favourite cookbooks is 'The Soup Sisters Cookbook' edited by Sharon Hapton. The recipes are simple and easy to follow. She has two other cookbooks, with her latest 'The Soup Sisters Family Cookbook' available now.

I have the best intentions, when I make soup, to make enough for our dinner and lunch the next day. I always start with a small pot and a recipe. The recipe is just a guideline, as I am always changing it, because of what is in my garden and fridge. It isn't long before I have to switch to a bigger pot, then finally switch to the mega pot, which makes enough soup for 30 people. Guess we will be eating and sharing soup for awhile!!! Poor John.

Cannellini and Kale Soup

Most soups call for vegetable, chicken or beef stock. Here are my thoughts on using stock: I don't use stock unless I have time to make it from scratch. I don't buy stock because of all the chemicals they put in it. If I do buy stock it is organic, and I carefully read the ingredient list because sometimes the word "organic" is misused, and besides, if you use fresh ingredients and sea salt, you will make an awesome soup. Sometimes, I simply put everything in a crock pot the night before, and in the morning, plug it in. Your soup is ready when you come home.

- 1 onion, diced
- 1/4 cup sunflower seed oil
- 12 cloves garlic, sliced
- 6 cups chopped kale leaves
- 1/2 lb Italian sausage, sliced or diced
- 1/2 cup white wine
- 8 cups chicken stock or water
- 2 cups canned diced tomatoes with their juice
- 1/2 cup cannellini (white kidney) beans, drained and rinsed
- 5 or more fresh basil leaves, chopped
- 1 sprig fresh thyme, leaves only
- Salt and pepper to taste
- Freshly grated Parmesan cheese for garnish-optional

1. In a large pot, over medium heat, sauté the onion in the oil, until the onion is softened.
2. Stir in the garlic. Sauté until the edges of the garlic start turning a light brown color and the mixture starts to feel tacky on the bottom of the pot when you stir with a spoon.
3. Add the Kale and sausage. Sauté until the kale wilts, about 3 minutes.
4. Add the wine and cook until the boozy smell disappears, about 3 minutes.
5. Add the stock or water, tomatoes, beans, basil, and thyme. Bring to a boil over high heat, then reduce the heat to medium-low.
6. Simmer, uncovered until the sausage is cooked and the flavors have blended, about 20 minutes. Add salt and pepper to taste.

Pea, Carrot and Dill

You can leave the soup chunky or puree it for a thick texture.

- 3 quarts vegetable stock or water
- 2 cups split peas
- 3 Tbsp oil
- 3 potatoes, peeled and diced
- 2 carrots, peeled and diced
- 2 stalks celery, diced
- 1 onion, diced
- 5 cloves garlic, diced
- 1/2 cup finely chopped fresh parsley
- 4 Tbsp finely chopped fresh dill
- 2 tsp celery seeds
- Salt and pepper to taste

1. In a large pot sauté the onion and garlic in oil until tender.
2. Add to the pot the stock or water, split peas, potatoes, carrots and celery. Bring to boil on high heat then turn the heat down to a gentle simmer.
3. Simmer uncovered, until the peas are tender and falling apart about 1 hour.
4. Stir in the parsley, dill and celery seeds. Puree the soup until smooth and then add salt and pepper to taste.
5. For an extra touch at the end, add a bit of cream.

Rural Economic Development Program

Ontario's Rural Economic Development (RED) program helps rural communities remove barriers to community economic development. With the support of the program, rural communities are better positioned to attract investment, create jobs, enhance economic growth and make everyday life easier for rural Ontarians. The RED program supports the government's plan to create jobs, grow our economy and help people in their everyday lives by: Helping remove barriers to economic development for rural communities, Indigenous communities and organizations, and not-for-profit organizations; helping rural communities identify their economic strengths and develop strategies to attract business and investment which will help retain and create jobs; and helping rural communities and partners to be in a more competitive economic position so that they can diversify and grow their local economies - making economic growth more inclusive so that Ontario's growing economy delivers real benefits to rural Ontario.

Intake Dates: The program is now open. Note that intakes open at 9 am (Eastern) and close at 5 pm (Eastern) on the dates indicated: October 16, 2017 to December 1, 2017 and July 30, 2018 to September 28, 2018.

Applicants are required to read the guidelines before completing an application form.

There are lots of opportunities for the MSS Mustangs to show off their talents.

The MSS sports teams have been hard at work representing our school. The girls' basketball team played against Elliot Lake on Thursday, October 26. The girls won their game 43-26. The boys' and girls' hockey teams have started their training, and both teams have their first exhibition games coming up. The boys have their first exhibition game against Espanola on November 1, and their first regular season game against St. Charles on November 9. The girls had their first exhibition game against Espanola on October 31.

Amber Wiwchar placed first in the midget girls' category at NOSSA x-country in Mattawa and Marjorie Scott placed first in the junior girls category. Marjorie and Amber will both be advancing to OFSAA. OFSAA is in Petawawa on November 4.

There was a college information session on October 30.

Lots of students signed up to get information on the application process, how to apply for scholarships and other important parts of post-secondary education. Colleges and universities are still visiting MSS to give more details about their specific schools.

MSS was in the Halloween spirit. On Monday, October 30, Students' Council had a pumpkin carving contest. Ten teams participated and the winning team won Halloween candy. On Tuesday, October 31, Students' Council organized a costume contest. Prizes were handed out to the fun-

Tehkummah Talk and Times

Joan said Lucas Arnold got an 8-point buck archery hunting on the weekend.

Rob Gill has been up at the apartment, also doing some bow hunting with John Novak. Pat was feeling much better on Sunday; she has had a bad cold ever since they returned from the east coast and Matthew's wedding.

Pauline and Wayne, Susan and Simon had dinner and visiting time with Bev and Richard Lynch. A nice change and a break from the worry time with Mum. She challenged me to cards; I won both games. No breaks just because she wasn't feeling well.

Big euchre afternoon, Tuesday, five tables: first prize, Simon, 167; second, Linda, 153; third, Georgina, 143; door prize, Andy; 50/50, Glenn. Next bid euchre is Thursday at 1:30 pm.

On Wednesday evening after cribbage, Cal and I drove to Little Current, had a pretty young waitress named Hailey who waited on us at Elliott's Restaurant (it is still Elliott's?).

On Thursday I took in the rummage sale at Knox. They sure get a lot of stuff to check out. The girls are always so friendly. After I shopped a bit I did surprise Helen Oswald with a short visit. She's been having her issues. Dorothy Cronk took Bev Lynch for her eye appointment, hopefully improved conditions, I did the euchre in her stead Thursday evening.

Today Mum's in the hospital, Susan and Pauline were up in the day on Friday. Sherry, Tara and Skylar came along. We went to Grill and Chill for supper. Tara drove my van home through the dark and stormy night! It was laughable but I could hardly get in the van on the opposite side?

Thursday Euchre, a bit of fun: ladies' high, Sheila, 97, six lone hands; low, Marg, 46; men's high, Simon, 85 and four lone hands, won on a cut against Janet who was low 58; Simon won the door prize; K.P. duty, Anna Orford, Janet Dunn and Lois, thanks girls.

Cribbage, 6 and 3/4 tables: high hand, Bill McGregor, 22; first, Janet and Marg McC, 946; second,

Cal and I, 937; third, Dorothy and Brad, 920; low, Dolly and Sheila, 743; door, Gib, Dorothy C, Ruth McG, Roger. Roger introduced himself to me at the Hall; he's representing health and safety for the township. I went with Betty, Lydia,

Laura to Luc's Pizza in Little Current for our Red Hat outing. The other Southern Belles, Carolyn, Joan and Jeanine joined us. We all enjoyed the lunch. Then we were invited to Fred and Carolyn's lovely apartment

VIRGINIA KING
(nee Pitawanakwat)
1934-2017

Was born to Dan and Margaret Pitawanakwat on June 26, 1934 in South Bay. From our hearts with great sadness, we announce the peaceful passing of our mother, with family by her side on Monday, October 23, 2017. Virginia and Cecil had five children: Denise, predeceased 2002, Daryl (Gladys) of Buzwah, Anna-Leah of Regina, Alanis (friend Bitsy) of Ottawa, and Shoo-Shoo (Troy) of Tyendinaga Mohawk Territory; seven grandchildren: Candace, Feather (Greg), Cheyenne, Tanis, Dylan, Elanna and Blake; and four great-grandchildren: Phoenix, Winter, Declan and Hudson. Predeceased by her parents, Dan and Margaret Pitawanakwat and siblings Phyllis, Ron, Clarence, and Stanley. Survived by her brothers Raymond, Victor and Morris and her sisters, Joyce and Sheila. Our Mom cared deeply for many nieces and nephews and together we share fond, warm memories. Virginia was a career federal public servant in Ottawa. She felt strongly about giving back to community and generously gave her time by volunteering for various community organizations. Virginia enjoyed being a hockey mom and even more so a hockey grandma who rarely missed a puck drop! Virginia was dedicated to her faith, from which she drew strength throughout her life. Rested at the Spanish Hill Community Centre (South Bay) from Tuesday, October 24, 2017. Funeral Mass at Our Lady of Grace, South Bay, was on Thursday, October 26, 2017 at 11 am. Cremation followed the funeral service.

Memorial donations are gratefully appreciated and can be made at the admitting office to the auxiliaries of the Manitoulin Health Centre and the Renovation Fund in both Mindemoya and Little Current and the Gore Bay Manitoulin Lodge Auxiliary Incorporated, 3 Main Street, Gore Bay, Ontario, POP 1H0 and the Manitoulin Centennial Manor Auxiliary, Postal Bag 460, 10 Robinson Street, Little Current, Ontario, POP 1K0. # ...Tehkummah Talk and Times

(Fred was in Tehkummah) for dessert, chocolate cake or pumpkin pie with whipped cream. While we were there Carolyn got some sad news that her sister in law, Mary Lou Phillips had passed away, sympathy to all the family.

Mum worked with Mary Lou at Timber Lane, years ago. I guess we are cousins twice removed. Does that make us third? I never can figure that out.

Popped into the hospital, Mum was doing well, pretty chipper and wide-awake tonight. Things are going well. Cal and I then went to play cards with Gib and Florence. The girls won three, and then it went to bad! But the guys wouldn't play after they skunked us! We had supper at Carol's and Earl's, Reg and Noreen joined us, then Betty Jean and Bill, we had a great visit!

I guess I can take the frying pan off the stove. Ray's back from the hunt, I don't see a moose rack or heels sticking out of the truck (Saturday).

I just stopped in at the Hall. Grant had made a beautiful big cake with a picture of a much younger Elnora Sagle who, on Saturday, was celebrating her 90th birthday. They were opening gifts and cards. I had missed the main event, where even the honoured guest sang a few songs. There was a wonderful array of squares and food that a large crowd had already sampled. I was all family left so it seemed. It looked like a super event. Congratulations, Elnora.

I guess not a long enough time to advertise. Not a whole lot of folks from Eugene Manitowabi's appreciation show here for the folks of Tehkummah who he claims have been good to him. I know he has been entertaining for years, loads of charitable shows too, always available. I can remember years ago at our garage the guys having a jam session, usually a Saturday night, back when Rick Almont had the Trash and Treasure too.

There was a celebration and tribute to Linda Bowerman's, from Little Current, birthday. Eugene's granddaughter Isabella sold cupcakes, squares and desserts, the canteen was open.

His band, Urban Majaki, guitar; Ben Lentir, song and guitar; Roger Daybutch, famous in his own right it seemed, voice and guitar; Chicken George's son Daniel (Shining Wings?) is just getting back into drumming (he's great), guest drummer; Tim Shaw, guest singer Glen McDougall. We also got a preview of the song he'll be singing as he entertains next weekend when he will be recognized into the Northern Opry Hall of Fame? Edith Clark won the 50/50; the music was just wonderful. Oh yeah, the soundman was Wikwemikong's chief, Duke Peltier.

Aren't the wild pear trees pretty this fall? I can't believe there are so many of them now. Do they produce (across from H.H Manitowaning.) Someone must have killed the wolf I use to see last year, so much nearer to town. Some amazing cloud formations (snow?) and apricot/peach skylines lately (evenings.) Sandhill Cranes, hundreds, Scotts or McGraths. From no wild geese to flocks again, maybe they're coming back? Watch for deer, I'm talking to drivers, not hunters!

Hey I bought some extra raisin, raisin bran, bowl #1, 1 raisin; bowl #2, 2 raisins; bowl # 3, 3 raisins. Things are looking up, can't wait for tomorrow's count.

Hello friends, have a good week.

Another week gone by, tonight clear sky and a million stars.

We met a whole lot of doctors from Norway who are checking out some stuff in Sudbury tomorrow, I think. The informative one was Ingrid; I would have liked to chat longer. Sounded like they were only going to be in the north for a week. They too live in the northern and rural areas.

We visited Mum at the hospital-she loved the nurse. Ruth Hill, she said was so kind and nice to her. She sure was friendly and so busy. We played cards again with Gib and Florence, pretty equal tonight. We also shared table space earlier at Carol's and Earl's said hello to Elva and Gary Strain who I haven't seen for ages.

Today our church held a healing service Frankinscene and Myrrh. I can still smell the perfume touching.

Hey this is the count down. The Fairview United Church Senior Christmas Tea and Bazaar Bake Sale. Draws, come on down! Saturday, November 4, 2 pm.

Providence Bay News and Notes

Steve and Kerry Barclay lost their cat on their last visit, so poor Luna had to fend for herself until caught by sister-in-law Karen Cranston. They were up for an unexpected visit to pick Luna up. They (Steve) will forever be in her debt.

The monthly euchre tournament scores were as follows: First place went to Sally/Bev team with a whopping 83 points. Second place winners were Linda/Marg team with 76 points. Third place was taken by Jim/Fred team with 75 points. And finally, fourth place winning team was Dave/Laurene with 74 points. The low hand was a tie between Wilma/Kal team and George/Gayle. The most lone hands was also a tie between Dave/Laurene and Sally/Bev. A good time was had by all.

Congratulations to Keith McAllister who has retired officially as of October 30 after 34 years of employment.

The Providence Bay Community Centre Board is looking for new member and/or volunteers for the upcoming Fowl Supper. Their regular meeting is being held Wednesday, November 1 at 7:30 pm at the Providence Bay Hall. All are welcome to attend.

The Mindemoya River is open to fishing again from the bridge on Highway 551/542 (Mindemoya Dam) downstream to the bridge on Highway 551 (Mindemoya Bridge). It was closed as a fish sanctuary from September 25 to October 31. Coho salmon and rainbow trout will be coming starting in the next week or so. So bundle up and get your rods ready. Don't forget about the monthly curling club breakfast that will be held on Thursday, November 2 from 7-9 am. Come on out and support this fundraiser.

It's almost time for daylight savings time to end. Sunday, November 5 at 2 am it will be time to turn your clocks back one hour to 1 am. Sunrise and sunset will be about one hour earlier on November 5 than the day before. Soon it will be lighter in the mornings. Hurray!

The Annual Providence Bay Meat Spiel will soon be coming up. This is an open bonspiel (men, women, or some combination). The first 16 teams will be accepted, $180 per team, three games guaranteed plus the blind Calcutta and the Saturday evening meal. All prize packages contain a variety of meat products from Manitoulin Island Meats, plus there will be other fun meat prizes throughout the weekend. We've been thinking about our fantastic little village on the bay and what amazing people we have living here. We'd like to give a shout out to Lyle and Sharon Dewar. They are just wonderful people who are so generous and giving with their time. They help out anywhere that they can and do so with love. Their faith is evident to all and an admirable quality. Lyle has officiated at quite a number of ceremonies locally and he sure loves Providence Bay. We really enjoy hearing him and his band play at various functions. Sharon is just such a joy and her smile is contagious. She never has a bad word to say to anyone.

We'd like to continue doing community shout outs in the Providence Bay News and Notes every couple of weeks. If there is someone that you'd like to give a shout out to, please let us know. And in fact, if you have anything that you would like to contribute, please let us know. We know that there is a lot going on in our community but let's allow everyone to know. If there is an upcoming birthday, anniversary, fundraiser or celebration, please let us know. You can email Cheryl at prov_chick@hotmail.com or call her at 705-862-1613. Submissions must be received by each Sunday at 3 pm for submission in the following Wednesday publication of the paper. We look forward to hearing from you.
